NATHAN KIMBALL,

Treasurer of State.

REPORT.

CONDITION OF THE STATE DEBT, 1869.

The funded interest-bearing debt of the State at the beginning of the fiscal year, November 1st, 1868, was as follows :

Five per cent. certificates.....	$3,322,824 66
Six per cent, War Loan Bonds	210,000 00
	<hr/>
	$3,532,824 66

On the 31st October 1869, there remained outstanding

Five per cent. certificates.....	$1,636,956 33
Six per cent. War Loan Bonds.....	204,000 00
	<hr/>
Total.....	$1,840,956 33

The interest on which is paid semi-annually at the office of Agent of State, in New York.

There remains outstanding 6 per cent. Vincennes University Bonds due in 1885, interest payable semi-annually at the State Treasury in Indianapolis, $63,585,00. Notice has been given repeatedly through advertisements to the holders of these, as well as of the War Loan Bonds, that the State was ready to redeem all of them if presented within a given time.

A small amount of the 2½ per cent. certificates have not yet been presented. As they are over-due, and the money for their redemption has awaited and still awaits their presentation at the Agency in New York, the interest having ceased to accrue, they are no longer mentioned in my Reports among the obligations of the State.

The Auditor holds in trust for the Common School Fund, non-negotiable 6 per cent. bonds amounting to $3,551,316,15. The interest on which is distributed to the several Counties semi-annually, through the settlements with County Treasurers, for the support of Free Schools.

The redemptions during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1869, have been as follows, viz :

Five per cent. Certificates.....	$1,686,368 33
Two and a half per cent. Certificates.....	3,220 00
Six per cent. War Loan Bonds	6,000 00
Total.....	$1,695,588 33

TRUSTEE'S REPORT.

To Conrad Baker, Governor of Indiana:

The Board of Trustees of the Indiana Institution for educating the Deaf and Dumb, respectfully submit to your Excellency their twenty-sixth annual report for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1869.

The management of the internal affairs of the Institution has been so ably presented in the report of the Superintendent, Mr. MacIntire, which is herewith transmitted, that we feel that it is only necessary to call attention to the questions discussed, and to say that the Board have fully approved the course pursued during the year by him, as the executive head of the Institution.

By an examination of the report of the Trustees for the year ending October 31st, 1868, it will be seen that there was an unexpended balance of $14,278.35 in the treasury. It is well, however, to understand that this balance was intended for the support of the Institution until March 31st, 1869, there being a difference of five months between the time the annual report is required by law, and the time for which the appropriation extends, so that this balance, after all, is more apparent than real. It does not mean that the Institution has been conducted for a year, and that that much money has been saved, as might seem to a careless observer; but that it is a simple statement of the condition of the funds at that particular date.

The same thing occurs this year, and will continue to occur, under existing laws; so that if each annual report does not show an unexpended balance, it would be conclusive that the financial affairs of the Institution would be in an unhealthy condition; and, therefore, it gives us pleasure to say, as we do, in the statement given below, that the usual balance is on hand, with which to meet current expenditures and repairs until the last day of March, 1870:

RECEIPTS.

Balance in treasury, November 1st, 1868.....	$14,278 35
Appropriation for current expenses, repairs, and furnishing	44,000 00
Receipts from work shops.....	4,205 16
Receipts from counties for clothing.....	2,674 36
Total receipts	$65,157 87

DISBURSEMENTS.

On account of current expenses, repairs, and fur- nishing	$42,358 39
On account of shops.....	3,041 46
On account of clothing.....	2,674 36
Total payments.....	$48,074 21
Balance unexpended November 1st, 1869.....	$17,083 66

The last Legislature, fully understanding the wants of the Institution, appropriated the sum of $42,500 for its enlargement; or rather, for an entire new building. The Board, after carefully canvassing the matter, concluded to erect a somewhat larger building than was originally intended, feeling that it would be profitable to do so, and that by economical management the appropriation might be made sufficient. The main section of the building, therefore, was increased in width eight feet, and the length of each wing extended twelve feet. This will add very materially to the capacity of the house; and if we succeed, as we believe we can, in doing the work without exceeding the amount appropriated, it will be a source of great satisfaction to the Board, and, at the same time, add largely to the accommodations and comfort of the unfortunate inmates.

Contracts for material and construction were made early in the year, upon favorable terms, and the building has been pushed forward rapidly, but little more work being required to completely enclose it.

At this date the building account stands as follows:

Appropriation	$42,500 00
Amount expended.....	25,466 56
Balance unexpended, November 1, 1869.....	$17,033 44

The land belonging to the Institution was originally purchased with the intention of carrying on farming by the pupils; but this has been long since found impracticable to any profitable extent, nearly all of them preferring to learn trades. There are three forty-acre tracts belonging to the Institution, which cost six thousand dollars; but which now are worth twenty times that sum. For all the purposes of the Institution, not more than one-third can be profitably used. In a former annual report the Board recommended that the surplus be sold, and that the proceeds be profitably invested, or that the land be retained as a suitable site upon which to locate, whenever it might be needed, some kindred benevolent State institution. The forty acres on the south side of the Michigan road is, in our opinion, a most appropriate site on which to build a State institution for the treatment and education of idiots—that most unfortunate and pitiable class of the children of the State—which can not, in humanity, be much longer neglected. The tract of thirty-six acres lying on the north side of the National road, and separated from the grounds upon which the Institution is located, is not needed. When, therefore, by the last Legislature the act was passed establishing a reformatory for girls and women, in or near the city of Indianapolis, and the Governor published his proclamation inviting proposals for a site, the Board, believing that the north part of this tract would make a superior location for this institution, made, so far as they had the right and power to do so, a tender of so much of it as might be thought necessary for the purpose. The Governor accepted the proposal, and selected the northern half, lying near the United States Arsenal, and located the institution on the high ground in the center of the plat. The Board are clearly of the opinion that the location is a most appropriate one, and that the land could not be put to a better use than this humane purpose; and they trust that the dedication of it to this use will meet the approbation of the citizens of the State.

Occasionally, since the foundation of the Institution, one and another of the pupils committed to its care have sickened and died, whose friends were not able to remove their remains to their homes for burial, and they had to be interred here. The Institution, owning no lot in any public burying grounds, has been compelled to use a portion of its own land for this purpose. In the twenty-five years of its history there have been fourteen thus interred. The lot used is inconveniently located in a corner of the field, near the railroad track, which runs through it. The land is now quite valuable, and if it should be wanted for other purposes, or offered for sale, the grave yard being a part of it, would detract much from the worth of the whole. Besides if we continue to use it for this purpose it ought to be fenced and put in respectable order. This would cost as much as a lot in a respectable cemetery. We therefore came to the conclusion that it would be better in every way, and far more satisfactory to the friends of the pupils, to purchase a lot in the city cemetery, in which to re-inter those pupils who have been heretofore buried here, and such as might die here in future, whose friends could not remove them to their homes.

The Directors of Crown Hill Cemetery generously offered to sell to the Institution such a lot as we might select for the purpose, at half the usual rates charged individuals. Accordingly we have selected an appropriate one, and purchased it for eight hundred and twenty-five dollars, payable in three annual installments. The first payment has been made out of the current expense fund, and we hope by economy, in the same way to make the other two also, without applying to the Legislature for a specific appropriation for the object.

Having thus in as few words as possible presented an account of the principal business transactions of the year, we feel that it is unnecessary to enter into a discussion of other matters in detail.

Respectfully submitted,

P. H. JAMESON, President.

JOHN M. KITCHEN, }
JAMES C. BURT. } Trustees.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—As Superintendent, I respectfully submit to your honorable body my annual report of the condition and progress of the Institution over which I have the honor to preside, for the fiscal year commencing November 1st, 1868, and ending October 31st, 1869.

In presenting this report, it gives me great satisfaction to be able to assure you, and to congratulate the citizens of the State, that this noble Institution has uninterruptedly continued its onward and upward course, unobtrusively but successfully accomplishing its benevolent work, and increasing in numbers, influence and usefulness.

For the manifold mercies which have so richly crowned the labors of another year, it is meet that we should record our humble and grateful acknowledgements to our Heavenly Father, the source of all our blessings. The pupils and officers have been preserved in the enjoyment of more than their usual health, though not entirely exempt from disease. No deaths, however, have occurred among them, and, considering their large number and the crowded condition of the apartments, comparatively little sickness has been experienced. Last spring the measles visited the household, and the contagion was disseminated among the pupils, and a large number of the younger ones, who had not before had the disease, took it, and some of them were quite sick for a few days; but they all recovered. The worst consequences, in most cases, were a temporary detention from school and confinement to the sick-room for a short time.

In the following June, that dreaded disease, scarlet fever, visited us, and for several weeks caused much anxiety to the friends of the pupils, as well as to those who had the care of them. Three were taken with it, and one of them reduced to the verge of the grave, but through the assiduous attentions and skillful treatment of our excellent physician, under the good providence of God, they all recovered, and were able to return to their homes at the close of the session.

It is worthy of remark, that all those most conversant with the deaf and dumb, are aware that they are more subject to sickness than is common among other classes of people. Many of them inherit, with the infirmity of deafness, not only a weakened constitution, but a strong tendency to pulmonary and other complaints. This is especially true of that large class of cases whose deafness has been caused by scarlet and spotted fevers.

Many such are brought to us with constitutions greatly weakened from such causes, and who are liable to the return of the same or similar complaints; but who are poorly able to bear the shock of subsequent disease. About one-half of our pupils date their deafness from some severe illness; and the loss of hearing is not the only ill effect produced upon them. Some are left with weakened minds, and not a few with impaired constitutions, a tendency to disease, and a want of stamina to bear up under its attacks.

This being true, it speaks well for the hygienic and dietetic regime of the Institution, that throughout its whole history so little sickness and so few deaths have occurred among all those placed under its care. In the hours of study, in the kind of labor, in the recreation, food and rest, regard is had to the health of the pupils and their physical development, as well as their intellectual and moral improvement. The past history and present sanitary condition of the Institution, show that this is no idle boast.

From October 1st, 1861 to April 1st, 1869, the position of Physician to the Institution had been ably filled by Dr. P. H. Jameson, but who, having been elected by the preceding Legislature to the responsible office of President of the Boards of the Benevolent Institutions of the State, felt it to be his duty to resign the former and accept the latter. It was with profound regret that we were compelled to part with his valuable services and ever ready counsel and skill. His resignation was accepted by the Board, and the Superintendent authorized to employ a skillful physician in his stead, until the regular annual meeting of the Board. At the meeting of the Board in July, Dr. Frisby S. Newcomer was nominated and unanimously confirmed to fill the vacancy, who accepted the position and entered upon the discharge of his duties at the opening of the present session. Dr. Newcomer's extensive experience and eminent character as a physician, gives confidence that the pupils in sickness will be skillfully treated and their health well cared for.

The aggregate number of pupils admitted to the privileges of the Institution during the year beginning November 1st, 1868 and ending October 31st, 1869, has been two hundred and twenty-six, of whom one hundred and twenty-two have been boys and one hundred and four girls. Thirty-one were discharged at the close of last session and forty-one new pupils received at the opening of this. There are, therefore, remaining under instruction at this date, one hundred and ninety-five, comprising one hundred and three boys and ninety-two girls, an increase of ten over the average attendance last year. A full catalogue of the names and places of residence of all the pupils who have been under instruction during the year, will be found appended to this report.

For the want of room, all who wished to enter as pupils could not be admitted. Twenty-four more than could be accommodated applied at the commencement of this term, whose cases we were compelled to postpone until the new building now being erected should be completed. This, it is believed, will be done by the time for the opening of next session, when those whose cases have been laid over will have the preference over new applicants.

In the department of instruction, there have been several changes and some additions during the year. The appointments made have been to supply the places of those who have left us and to provide for the increased number of pupils.

Mr. Wm. S. Marshall, who had for several years been one of our most efficient and acceptable teachers, was offered the position of principal instructor in the important Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Fulton, in Missouri, the great empire State of the west, and accepted, and in January last left us, bearing with him to his new field of labor the respect and good wishes of all his associates. Mr. Marshall's experience in teaching, his acquaintance with business, his zeal and devotion to his profession, will render his services in the cause of deaf-mute instruction of the highest value in that great and rapidly advancing State.

Miss Annie E. Cooke, who, having had some experience as a teacher in the New York Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, was, on her removal from the east to this State, appointed, at the commencement of the year, one of the corps of teachers in this Institution. Miss Cooke served with us in this capacity, efficiently and successfully, until the close of the session, when she resigned her position and retired from teaching.

Also, Mr. V. Holloway, who taught a class last year with ability and success, resigned for the purpose of entering upon a regular course of classical studies in the National Deaf-Mute College in Washington city.

Two of the places thus made vacant have been filled by the appointment of Mr. John L. Houdyshell and Miss Naomi S. Hiatt, both of whom are eminent graduates of our High Class, and have had a year's special training for this work, and who propose to make teaching their profession. Their intelligence, zeal and devotion to the cause give promise of a high degree of success.

The third vacancy has been supplied by the engagement of Mr. Eugene W. Wood, an intelligent deaf-mute, educated at the American Asylum, and for sometime a citizen of Greenfield, in this State, whose services thus far have been very efficient and acceptable.

On account of the large number of new pupils admitted this session, it was found necessary to form an additional class and to employ an additional teacher. This want has been supplied by the temporary appointment of Miss Susan Wallace, an intelligent deaf-mute young lady from the Ohio Institution, who entered upon the discharge of her duties the first of October last and has thus far continued faithfully to discharge them.

It was announced in the last annual report that authority had been given by the Board of Trustees to form one or more classes for special instruction in articulation and reading from the lips, of such of the pupils as gave evidence of ability to receive benefit from this course of training, but that we had been unable up to that time to secure a suitable person to undertake this difficult service. Therefore, during last session only occasional attention was given to this subject by the hearing and speaking teachers, in connection with the regular instruction of their classes through natural signs and writing. The principal aim, heretofore, in this exercise has been to prevent those pupils who possessed in any degree the power of speech, from losing it altogether from a want of practice. We are now happy to announce that a more thorough and systematic course of instruction in this accomplishment has been commenced. A teacher to take charge of this department of instruction was appointed at the opening of this session. Mr. Joseph C. Gordon, a young gentleman of liberal education, good address and decided ability, with a physical, mental and moral aptitude for, and some experience in teaching, has been appointed to this post and is zealously prosecuting this work.

The plan of procedure adopted, is to select from among the pupils those who retain any power of speech and form them into small classes, as near as can be according to their intellectual advancement, and by oral exercises of from half to three-quarters of an hour at a time, in the formation of the elementary sounds, in pronouncing words and sentences, and in every possible way, to correct, improve and enlarge their powers of speech, and to train those who have a faculty for it, to understand from the motion of the vocal organs, the speech of others. For the present, the efforts of the instructor will be confined to the improvement of those who lost their hearing after they had learned to talk, and who retain, in some measure, the ability to articulate words. There are of this class of persons in the Institution, from twenty-five to thirty, whose articulation can, in this way, be greatly improved, and some of them, who possess a special talent for it, can be taught to read the language of their friends from the motion of the lips.

We do not rely alone, in any case, upon articulation for the intellectual and moral improvement of the pupils, but use it as we do writing, the manual alphabet and natural signs, not as an end, but as a means. As we use signs in instructing a deaf-mute the art of penmanship or drawing, so we use signs in teaching him the art of speaking orally. In the one case, we show him how to move the muscles of the hand so as to produce written words, and in the other, those of the vocal organs, so as to produce spoken words. In both cases the motion is physical, and as much mechanical in one as the other. As we use signs to instruct our pupils in written language, so we shall teach them spoken language.

Articulation is an acquirement very desirable to possess, when it can be obtained in a useful degree, without the sacrifice of more important ends. This, we know, in exceptional cases can be obtained; but for the great mass of the deaf and dumb, the expenditure of the time and the effort necessary, on the part of both pupil and teacher to acquire, what at best in most cases is a harsh and unnatural speech, we cannot but regard as a waste of labor that is not compensated by the partial utility of the acquirement, especially if it has to be obtained at the sacrifice of intellectual and moral culture.

With the exception of the changes and additions above noted, the teachers remain the same as formerly.

The following statement will show the course of study and the classification of the pupils, and the teacher assigned to each class for the present session :

The Institution, in a financial point of view, is in a favorable condition. Notwithstanding the increased number of pupils, and some extraordinary expenses unavoidably incurred in connection with the erection of the new building, we have been able to meet all the wants of the establishment, and keep up all departments in their full efficiency, with the means placed at our disposal, having an available balance unexpended at this date larger than ever before, to meet future payments, until the annual appropriations shall accrue under the law.

The aggregate of means placed to the credit of the Institution, including the balance in the treasury, November 1st, 1868, has been one hundred and seven thousand six hundred and fifty-seven dollars and eighty-seven cents, and the amount of payments for all purposes during the year has been seventy-three thousand five hundred and forty-two dollars and seventy-seven cents; which leaves unexpended thirty-four thousand two hundred and fifteen dollars and ten cents.

The following statement will show the amount of funds placed to the credit of each separate account, and the aggregate sum, together with the payments, and the objects upon which the funds have been expended:

A special appropriation was made by the General Assembly for the purpose of supplying the Institution with new steam boilers in place of the ones now in use for warming the buildings, and which are about worn out. It was the design to have made this improvement last summer; but when we came to consider that in warming the new building when it should be finished, material additions and alterations would have to be made in the heating apparatus, and that the boilers would have to be adapted to, and set, for this purpose, it was concluded that it would be cheaper and in every way better, to postpone, if it could be done with safety, their introduction until the whole could be constructed together. They have not therefore been made; but the old boilers have been overhauled and as thoroughly repaired as they would admit of; so that they have been pronounced to be safe, and, with careful using, will, it is believed, serve the purpose through another winter. But new boilers have been contracted for, so as to have them ready in case of sudden need, to be put up without unnecessary delay. The funds are still on hand to meet this expense.

Formerly it was the custom to insure the buildings and furniture of the Institution against loss from fire by securing and keeping up policies in good companies to the amount of from forty to fifty thousand dollars. These have been allowed to expire and for several years past there has been no insurance on the property. Respecting the policy of insuring public buildings there seems to be some diversity of opinion. It is said by some that the State is better able to take the risk and to bear the loss, in case of accident, than any company or companies. It is asked, if the State insures one of her institutions against loss from fire, why not all her public buildings? But the Legislature meets only once in two years; and should a fire occur in the recess, causing much damage, there being no provision made for such a contingency, the Institution would have to be suspended until the following session of the Legislature; and after that, until the damage could be repaired. Against such a misfortune insurance would perhaps be the best and most certain protection. The most prudent individuals do not neglect to secure themselves by this means against interruption in their business, and the loss of their property. Neither should those having the charge of this Institution do so. We have, in former reports, repeatedly suggested that this policy should be pursued, and the only reason why it has not been done of late years is because no special provision has been made to meet the expense.

When we commenced building the addition, the danger from fire was manifestly so much increased, that it appeared but an act of wise precaution to get the property insured at least to a moderate extent. Accordingly policies in good and reliable companies were taken out for twenty-five thousand dollars at a premium of one per cent. per annum.

The new building, for the erection of which the Legislature made an appropriation last session, was commenced early in the summer, and has been pushed forward as rapidly as possible. At this date it is so far advanced as to give assurance that it will be under roof before the winter shall set in. Considering the very unfavorable character of the early part of the season for making brick and for out door work, more has been accomplished towards its completion than is usual in such undertakings. We have been very fortunate not only in the terms of the contracts entered into for material and work, but also in the character of the men who undertook to execute them. We advertised for proposals; the competition for the work was warm and extensive, and it was let on the most favorable terms for the Institution. All the agreements entered into with the Contractors have thus far without exception been faithfully and promptly executed.

The excavation for the cellar was begun in May; the rubble stone work for the foundation walls was finished by the middle of July, and the brick, measuring over a million, were laid in the walls in ninety days. The roof is raised, and the workmen are now engaged in putting on the slate. Two or three weeks more of good weather will suffice to enable them to enclose the building and make it secure for the winter. When this shall be done it is proposed to stop operations until next spring.

Several changes in the plan of the building proposed in the last annual report, and upon which the estimate of the cost of the improvement was based, have been made, which it is proper briefly to notice:

In order to secure the accommodation needed it was found necessary to lengthen the wings twelve feet and widen them two feet; to increase the width of the center building eight feet, and to raise the basement two feet higher. Instead of placing the wash house in the basement of the building, and thus perpetuate the evil complained of in the present arrangement, it was concluded to erect a separate house for this purpose. Accordingly a good and substantial brick building, twenty by forty feet, one story high, with slate roof, has been put up in the rear of, and separate from the other apartments, and in convenient proximity to the boiler house, where it can easily and cheaply be supplied with steam for washing and drying the clothing. This is a great improvement on what was at first proposed, because, by this means, the apartments in the main building will be entirely relieved from the unpleasantness arising from carrying on these operations in the basement of the house occupied by the inmates.

Another important change was in the sewers which ran through the site for the new structure. It was found necessary to remove and reconstruct about four hundred and fifty feet of the main trunk, and make the addition of as much more in lateral branches, connected with the new building. The former has been made of brick laid in cement, and the latter of cement tiling.

Another important change, that, for obvious reasons, had to be made in the outset of the improvement, was the removal of the fountain and conservatory to a more suitable location, and refitting them and furnishing them with means of warming, a supply of water and other appropriate appliances.

Besides these alterations and additions in the plans, as at first proposed, two large cisterns of the capacity of three hundred barrels each, two iron tanks, and two bake ovens have been constructed in the most approved and substantial manner.

In the original estimate these items were either omitted or their cost only partially counted. It was supposed that most of them could and would be added after the construction of the building. But it was found, in the progress of the improvement, that they could be made more conveniently and better, and at a much less cost, in connection with the other work; and, therefore, they were included in, and have been executed under, the general contracts for material and labor, and at the same low rates. They are, all of them, improvements that had to be made; and it must be obvious to every one that the building committee have acted wisely and for the best interests of the Institution in having them done in this manner.

In every expenditure upon the building the amount appropriated by the Legislature for this object has been constantly kept in view; and the endeavor from the first has been to make the best and most substantial improvement possible without exceeding the amount granted for the purpose. The work on it has now so far advanced as to give assurance that the whole can be finished at a cost not beyond the sum originally proposed.

It is intended, as soon as the building shall be enclosed, to stop work on it during the severe months of winter, and resume operations early in the spring, and push them forward as rapidly as possible, so as to have it ready for occupancy by the commencement of next session.

The manual labor department of the Institution, though somewhat interfered with during the summer months by the conversion of the cabinet shop into a carpenter shop, in connection with the building in course of erection, has, upon the whole, been prosecuted with favorable results; not less, perhaps, on the average, than those of former years. There has been no essential decline of interest or zeal on the part of the pupils; or of their improvement; or in the profits on the work manufactured.

The boot and shoe business, under the immediate management of Mr. G. S. Strang, has been prosecuted energetically and profitably. Thirty boys are engaged in learning this trade, and in most cases manifest a commendable industry, and a desire to become proficient in it. Cabinet-making is carried on as usual; twenty-five boys are employed in this business during the hours allotted to labor, under Mr. H. Richter, as master workman, who has lately taken charge of the shop. He seems to be the right man in the right place, and is succeeding well in instructing in this art those under him.

The pupils under the care of the Matron are faithfully trained in various kinds of needle-work, and in the performance of such household duties as are suited to their ages and capacities, and as will be useful to them in after life.

In the assignment of work to the pupils, their tastes and inclinations, as well as the wishes of their parents, are consulted, and as far as possible, accommodated.

To the editors and publishers who have so generously contributed their papers and magazines the past year to the Institution, we hereby, in behalf of the pupils, tender our sincere thanks.

Our acknowledgements are also due, and are hereby tendered, to the officers of the various railroads throughout the State, for the great aid they have given our pupils in coming to and going from the Institution, by passing them over their roads at half-fare, and in many instances, without charge.

With these remarks we close the record of another year, trusting that the Institution, through the good providence of God, under your watchful care, will continue its course of prosperity, widening its influence for good, until it shall embrace all the needy of this class throughout the State.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOMAS MAC INTIRE,

Superintendent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE

ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

I. The Institution is open to all the Deaf and Dumb of the State between the ages of ten and twenty-one years, for admission as pupils, free of charge for boarding and tuition, upon compliance with the rules. Applicants from other States will be received as pupils on the payment, in advance, of one hundred and fifty dollars a year for boarding and tuition.

II. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions: 1st. The pupil, well provided with clothes, is to be brought to the Asylum punctually at the commencement of each session, unless detained at home by his or her sickness. 2d. The pupil is to remain in the school until the last Wednesday in June, of each year. 3d. No parent or guardian shall be allowed to take a pupil out of the school in session time, without the consent of the Board of Trustees.

III. The annual sessions of the school commence on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and close on the last Wednesday of June. Every pupil is to come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and is to remain until the last day of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness.

IV. The Institution will provide for each State pupil regularly admitted, boarding, lodging, washing, superintendence of conduct, manners and morals, medical attendance, instruction, school books, slates, and all other incidental expenses of the school room, without charge; but will not pay the traveling expenses of pupils in coming to or returning from the Institution, nor supply them with clothing, except in extreme cases of destitution.

V. Those who are unable to pay for the necessary clothing, or whose parents neglect to supply them, it is made the duty of the Superintendent to furnish, in accordance with the following legislative enactment:

"That when the pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb are not otherwise supplied with clothing, they shall be furnished by the Superintendent, who shall make out an account therefor, in each case, against the respective counties from which said pupils were sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which account will be signed by the Superintendent, and attested by the seal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Treasurer of State shall charge the account thus certified, to the county from which the pupil was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the Indiana Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb.

"SEC. 3. When such account shall be received by the Treasurer of the proper county, to whom it shall be immediately sent upon its reception by the Treasurer of State from the Superintendent, such County Treasurer shall cause the same to be paid out of the County Treasury to the Treasurer of State. And such County Treasurer shall collect the amount of such account from the estate of such pupil, if he have any, by suit, if necessary, in the name of the county."

VI. Each applicant for admission should come well supplied with clothing; and on all articles on which it is possible to mark the name of the pupil, it should be written with indellible ink. In all cases, except those clothed by the county, besides the ordinary supply of clothing, the applicant should deposit with the Superintendent a sum not less than five dollars, to defray incidental expenses, repairs of shoes, etc., any part of which remaining unexpended at the close of the session will be returned. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk.

VII. The Institution is not an Asylum; but a school of learning; and hence no one can be admitted or retained as a pupil who, from sickness or from other cause, is unable to pursue his or her studies successfully.

VIII. The course of study in the primary department embraces Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, and Grammar, and ordinarily requires seven years to complete it. All the pupils who wish it, and will avail themselves of it, are allowed the full benefit of this course of study.

IX. For the benefit of those who wish to qualify themselves for teaching or for other intellectual pursuits, the Trustees have established a High Class and adopted a course of three years' study in the sciences. From among those who complete the primary course of study, the Superintendent may select each year the most

REMARKS.

As will be seen by the above tables showing the condition of the State Debt, a large proportion of the five per cent. certificates of stock has been redeemed during the year.

Whenever there was money in the treasury to the credit of the State Debt Sinking Fund, it was forwarded to the Agent in New York, by the Treasurer of State, in pursuance of an order of the State Debt Board, and five per cent. certificates redeemed whenever they could be obtained.

Notice was also given of the usual redemption at the office of the Agent of State, on and after the first day of July, and a large amount was surrendered by holders, in accordance with that notice.

The five and two and one-half per cent. certificates issued, as shown by the tables following, were for the one-half of principal and one-half of accumulated interest, of one old Internal Improvement Bond, surrendered under the acts of 1846 and 1847.

The amount of Internal improvement Bonds still outstanding is $195,000.

The certificates redeemed have been carefully counted and compared with the register of stock in this office, and filed away for examination and destruction by the Finance Committees of the General Assembly.

The table appended shows in brief the transactions in relation to the State Debt during the year.

CANCELLATION OF A NON-NEGOTIABLE BOND.

In pursuance of an act entitled "an act providing for the erection of a suitable building for the use of the Supreme Court and State Officers, for borrowing money from the Sinking Fund therefor," etc., approved March 9, 1867, the sum of $40,000 was borrowed from the Sinking Fund and a non-negotiable bond issued therefor, dated May 1, 1868, payable to the School Fund and bearing six per cent. interest.

The bond was placed among the non-negotiable bonds of the School Fund, and interest paid as provided by law, at the semi-annual distributions of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Subsequently, as the building progressed toward completion, and it was found that the $40,000 would not be sufficient, sums amounting in the aggregate to $12,101.55 were borrowed from the Sinking Fund, making in all $52,101.55.

At the meeting of the General Assembly of 1869, an act entitled "An act to make an appropriation for the payment to the Sinking Fund of money advanced to pay the expense of the erection of the building for the use of the Supreme Court and officers of State," was passed and approved May 14, 1869, which act provided for the payment of $52,101.55, being the amount advanced out of the Sinking Fund, and also $4,385.32, interest on the amount, and requiring the cancellation of the non-negotiable bond for $40,000, and its destruction in the presence of the Finance Committee of the General Assembly.

In accordance with this act, the full amount was transferred from the General Fund to the Sinking Fund, May 17, 1869. The bond has been canceled, but not yet destroyed by the committees named.

OVER-PAYMENT OF INTEREST.

It is necessary to state, in connection with the above, that when the amount borrowed from the Sinking Fund was repaid, the sum of $4,385.22 was also paid to the Sinking Fund, as required by the act of 1869, as interest on the whole amount borrowed, notwithstanding two semi-annual payments of interest had been made on all the non-negotiable bonds held for the School Fund, including the bond for $40,000, which was part of the $52,101.55 borrowed from the Sinking Fund.

Amount of War Loan Bonds purchased.....		10,000
Amount of University Bonds purchased.....		6,000
		$83,700

Total amount of Stocks now held by the Fund..... $83,700

In regard to the purchase of Indiana State Stocks, it is sufficient to say that the foregoing list embraces all that have been offered. The ample means for redemption, provided by the Legislature, have so increased the value of all our State Stocks and Bonds that holders are reluctant to sell even at par.

STATE OFFICES BUILDING FUND.

The amount due the Sinking Fund on this account on 31st October, 1869, was $12,129 62
Amount re-paid 12,129 62

It will be seen from the last annual report that a non-negotiable bond for $40,000, dated May 1, 1868, was given as payment, in part, of the amount borrowed from the Sinking Fund. This bond has been cancelled, and the full amount, with interest, has been paid in cash.

BONDS AND STOCKS SURRENDERED.

The whole amount of Bonds and Stocks surrendered, and for which non-negotiable six per cent. bonds were issued, up to October 31, 1868, was.....	$3,532,355 88
Cancelled 1st May, 1869.....	40,000 00
Leaving balance at this date of.....	$3,492,355 88

Amount realized from collateral security.....	7,590 00
Leaving balance due.....	$57,441 14

This is the amount as it appears on the ledger account. The amount really due, however, is much larger. The court, in award-judgment in October, 1867, allowed interest at four per cent. on the original deposits, and the judgment bears interest at 6 per cent. By including these items, the amount due on 31st October, 1869, would be increased to about $80,000.

	C. B. BENTLEY,

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Woolfolk offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That, as there exists a difference of opinion as to the power of the Board in regard to the supervision of the railroad appraisement, that the chairman appoint a committee of three to examine as to the law in the premises, and report.

Adopted.

The committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Woolfolk, Thompson, and Neal.

On motion, Messrs. Bisch, McCartney, Rudisell, Bentley, and Woolfolk were appointed a committee to examine the abstracts and reports of the several district representatives, to compare the appraisements of districts and counties, and recommend to the Board such changes as to them seem just and equitable.

On motion, Messrs. O'Brien, Cully, Neal, Rudisell, and McCartney were appointed a committee to receive and examine all complaints, grievances, and remonstrances made by parties other than members of the Board in relation to the appraisement of real estate, the same to be made in writing, to be examined and to be reported to the Board.

On motion, the President of the Board be requested to employ a janitor to serve for and during the session of the Board.

On motion, the President of the Board is hereby authorized to furnish the necessary amount of stationery for the use of this Board.

The committee appointed to ascertain the authority of the Board to equalize the various railroad appraisements, reported as follows, to-wit:

The undersigned committee, to whom was referred the question of the power and duties of this Board in the matter of equalizing the valuation of the various railroads, would respectfully report that we have examined the question with much care before and since assigned to this duty, and are of opinion that the jurisdiction of the Board only extends to such cases as are brought here by appeal, and limited to granting or denying request of petitioners.

We have examined, also, as a part of our duty aforesaid, the Board's powers to reduce the aggregate of railroad appraisement within the State, and are well convinced that the rule is so imperative in regard to appraisement of real property, requiring that the aggregate value under no circumstances shall be reduced, does not apply to railroad appraisement. We desire to say further, that from a brief examination, gross inequalities exist in the various appraisements, and special injustice, as compared to real property. We would, therefore, suggest, that before adjournment, the Board, in its official capacity, give expression to their views in some way, so as to induce the Legislature to extend the duties and better define the powers of this organization in the matter above referred to.

CHARLES T. WOOLFOLK,	} Committee.
WILLIAM NEAL,
A. C. THOMPSON.

Which, on motion, was received and concurred in.

On motion, the matter of the appraisement of the various railroads in the State and the appeals therefrom, be made the special order for Friday, July 9th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

On motion, Messrs. Thompson, Castater, and Bisch were appointed a committee to examine and report the appraisements of the various railroads in the State, and of those that had filed with the Auditor of State their appeals from the appraisement made.

On motion, Messrs. Woolfolk, Rudisell, and Bentley were appointed to report whether it is legal for this Board to transact any business in the absence of any member thereof.

On motion, the Board adjourned to meet in the Senate chamber on to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

THURSDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, July 8th, 1869.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Bisch, O'Brien, Slater, Bentley, Cully, Woolfolk, Castater, Neal, Rudisell, McCartney, and Thompson.

On motion, Messrs. Woolfolk, Cully, Bentley, Rudisell and Castater were appointed a committee to draft a memorial to the Legislature in regard to additional legislation on the subject of railroad valuation, and appraisement of the same, and for a general revision of the laws in relation to the Board of Equalization.

The Committee on grievances submitted a report in the matter of grievances presented from the Eighth Congressional district, which, on motion, was referred to the committee on the revision of appraisement.

On motion, the Board adjourned to meet in the Senate Chamber on to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

FRIDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, July 9th, 1869.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Bisch, O'Brien, Slater, Bentley, Cully, Woolfolk, Castater, Neal, Rudisell, McCartney, and Thompson.

The committee on appeals of railroads reported as follows to-wit:

Your committee to whom was referred the appraisement of the various railroads in the State of Indiana, and to report to this Board the names of the railroads that have filed their appeals with the Auditor of State; but owing to the fact that there is no appraisement of a number of roads in the State at the command of the committee, their report is necessarily incomplete. The following are the names of railroads whose appraisements have been reported to the Auditor of State:

Joliet and Northern Indiana Railroad, appraised at $1,000 per mile.

Indianapolis, Crawfordsville, and Danville Railway, appraised at $3,000 per mile.

Indianapolis and Vincennes Railroad, appraised at $3,000 per mile.

Michigan Central Railroad, appraised at $9,500 per mile.

Jeffersonville, Madison, and Indianapolis Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad, appraised at $400 per mile.

Evansville and Crawfordsville Railroad, appraised at $3,000 per mile.

Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad, appraised at $12,000 per mile.

Ohio and Mississippi Railway, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

RAILROADS THAT HAVE FILED APPEAL PAPERS WITH THE AUDITOR OF STATE.

Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad, appraised at $9,500 per mile.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, appraised at $10,000 per mile.

Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Railroad, appraised at $7,500 per mile.

Shelby and Rush Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Columbus and Shelby Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Lake Erie and Louisville Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railroad, appraised at $5,000 per mile.

Indianapolis and Cincinnati Junction Railroad, appraised at $3,000 per mile, with 50 per cent. penalty added, increasing the appraisement to $4,500 per mile.

Your committee find it very difficult to make any suggestions that they deem of value to the Board, from the fact that it has already been decided by this Board that it has no power to equalize the appraisement of railroads by increasing the same. The committee are satisfied that great inequalities exist in relation to the appraisement of railroads in the State; but owing to the insufficiency of the laws governing the same, they are compelled to recognize the fact that the powers of the Board are circumscribed. We are satisfied that but few, if any, of the railroads in the State are appraised too high, but the reverse; that many of them are appraised too low, when compared with the real property of the State, and it is to be determined by this Board whether it will proceed with the equalization of railroads by reducing those that are appraised nearer an equality with other property of the State, thereby making an exception of railroads generally, or, whether they will be left as they now stand appraised, and the Board content itself as best it can, by expressing the regret that the law does not give it the power to do justice between the different roads and between railroads and other property, by increasing the appraisement of the numerous railroads in the State that are obviously appraised too low.

A. C. THOMPSON.

VICTOR BISCH.

A. J. CASTATER.

Report concurred in.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet in the Senate Chamber on Tuesday July 13th at 10 o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, July 13th, 1869.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Bisch, Slater, Culley, Woolfolk, Castater, Neal, Rudisell, McCartney and Thompson.

Absent, Messrs. O'Brien and Bentley.

There not being a full Board present for the transaction of business,

On motion, the Board adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, July 14, 1869.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Bisch, O'Brien, Slater, Bentley, Cully, Woolfolk, Castater, Neal, Rudisell, McCartney, and Thompson.

The Committee on appeals of railroads submitted the following report :

MR. CHAIRMAN :

Your Committee to whom was referred the appeal of certain railroad companies, from the appraisement of their property for 1869, would respectfully report that they have duly considered the matter submitted to them, and in view of the gross inequalities in the appraisements of the railroads of the State, and the limited power by statute given this Board, also, in view of the gross injustice in the law requiring an equalization of this class of property without conferring the power to increase the appraisements known to be entirely too low, therefore, we recommend that the following changes be made in the appraisement of railroads below mentioned.

Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railroad to $5,000 per mile ; and branches, Columbus and Shelbyville, Shelby and Rushville, and the Lake Erie and Louisville Railroads, at $1,000 per mile each.

Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Railroad, $5,000 per mile.

Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad, $7,500 per mile.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, $8,000 per mile.

And in case of the Junction Railroad, the Committee recommend that the same be not considered on account of their failure to comply with the provisions of the law governing appeals in such cases.

Respectfully submitted,

VICTOR BISCH.

HENRY J. RUDISELL.

A. J. CASTATER.

WM. NEAL.

Mr. O'Brien, delegate from the second district, member of said committee, submitted a minority, as follows :

MR. CHAIRMAN :

Being one of the committee to whom was referred the appeal of certain Railroad Companies from the appraisement of their property for the year 1869, and not agreeing with the majority of said committee, I beg leave to submit the following minority report, to-wit

Having carefully examined the law governing the appraisement of railroads in this State and in regard to the duties of this Board in the equalization of the same, the fact must be recognized that great injustice is done all property of the State by reducing this class of property far below its proportionate value, thereby relieving it from a just proportion of the burthens of taxation, and to the same extent increasing the rate of taxation upon the real and other property of the State. Therefore in my judgment it would be oppressive and unjust for this Board to attempt to equalize the several appraisements of the roads that have filed appeals, by reducing them to an equality with those roads that it is conclusive are too low.

It is evident that the appraisement of some of the railroads as reported are far below their approximate value as compared with other property of the State. There may be some errors committed by the appraisers in placing a value upon this species of property by not more definitely designating and discriminating between the main tracks and branches of the several roads of the State, but upon the whole, the appraisements are too low. Therefore I think it would be doing great injustice to adopt the report of the majority of the committee in regard to the reductions therein recommended.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. O'BRIEN.

On motion the reports were received and the committee discharged.

Mr. Rudisell offered the following:

Resolved, That the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad and branches be appraised and assessed for taxation at the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per mile, and that the appraisement of the county appraisers in the above case be reduced to the above named sum.

On motion, the Board adjourned until to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

THURSDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, July 15, 1869.

The Board met, pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Bisch, O'Brien, Slater, Bentley, Culley, Woolfolk, Castater, Neal, Rudisell, McCartney and Thompson.

On motion, further time was granted the Junction Railroad Company, to obtain the opinion of the Attorney General in regard to the power of the Board, to consider their appeal from the action of the Board of Appraisers, in adding fifty per cent. penalty upon the appraisement of said road.

The Committee on Revision of Appraisements reported at some length and presented an abstract of the total appraisement in the State, by districts, for the years 1864 and 1869, with the per centage of increase, as follows:

The committee asked for further time to complete their general report, which was granted.

Mr. Bisch offered the following:

--------------------	--------------

Ordered by the Board, That the valuation of the real estate of the following named counties remain as fixed by the District Boards, viz: Warrick, Daviess, Perry, Decatur, Ripley, Shelby, Hancock, Brown, Monroe, Lawrence, Clay, Sullivan, Green, Vigo, Parke, Benton, Boone, Clinton, Tippecanoe, Cass, Allen, Blackford, Jay, DeKalb, Kosciusko, Noble, Steuben, Whitley, Fulton, Jasper, Newton, Laporte, Lake, Marshall, Pulaski, St. Joseph, White and Porter.

Ordered by the Board, That the changes made in the appraisements of the several counties and districts of the State, shall equally apply the same to town lots as well as lands.

The committee on the power of the Board, reported as follows, viz:

Your committee appointed to investigate as to the power of this Board to transact any business pertaining to the equalization of real estate in the absence of any member thereof, would respectfully report, that they have carefully examined the different authorities upon the matter and find that under the statute of 1852, and the rule of construction of the same as adopted by the courts, in the absence of any special legislation for the construction of statutes, that the Board of Equalization of the real property of the State could not legally transact any business of equalization, without a full Board being present. Vide the case of Hamilton vs. the State, 3d Ind., page 452.

Now, let it be remembered that this decision was rendered in the Circuit Court of Marion county, July 21, 1852, and confirmed by the Supreme Court November 22, 1852. The Legislature, however, in June of the same year, passed an act in relation to the construction of statutes and the definition of terms, approved June 18th, 1852, the second section of which is as follows:

“Words importing joint authority to three or more persons, shall be construed as authority to a majority of such persons, unless otherwise declared in the law giving such authority. See G. & H., 2 vol., 337.

This act, owing to the want of an emergency clause, did not take effect until 1853, and hence could not have any bearing on the decision above referred to.

We are of the opinion, therefore, that while the amendment of 1859 to the law authorizing Boards of Equalization, did not expressly authorize a majority of said Board to act, the acts of June, 1852, in relation to the construction of statutes, above referred to, and a later decision of the Supreme Court (see Cicero Hygiene Draining Company vs. Craighead, 28 Indiana, 274), and the absolute necessity for some such power, lead us to the conclusion that a majority of the State Board can transact any business pertaining to the equalization of real estate.

On motion, report received, concurred in and committee discharged.

The committee appointed to prepare a memorial to be presented to the Legislature, presented their report, as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The undersigned, a committee appointed by the State Board of Equalization to prepare a memorial to the Legislature of the State in regard to additional legislation on the subject of the valuation of real and railroad property, for the purpose of taxation, and for a general revision of the laws authorizing Boards of Equalization, would respectfully report the following for your consideration.

MEMORIAL.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Legislature of the State of Indiana:

The undersigned, members of the State Board of Equalization, having been selected to equalize the valuation of the real and rail road property of the State, for the purposes of taxation for the ensuing five years, and finding so many difficulties attending the faithful and intelligent performance of the duty required of us, beg leave to call your attention to the following:

The laws of our State, founded on the principle that the burdens of government should rest equally upon all according to their ability, requires that all property shall be appraised for the purposes of taxation, at a fair cash value. This basis, honestly adopted and faithfully carried out by the people of the State, is the only remedy for the unequal, and in some respects unjust system, that now exists. It is notorious, that owing to local jealousies and influences in the counties and districts of the State, property of the same class and value, real, personal and railroad, is appraised in one locality at only one-half of its fair cash value, while in other portions of the State it is appraised at three-fourths to full value.

The same influence that brings about a low appraisement of property, follow it to a certain extent, through all the different Boards of Equalization; and unless the inequality is corrected in the primary Boards, owing to the imperfect legislation that now exists in these matters, it will remain unadjusted, until another appraisement is had, entailing a grievous burden upon some classes of property, as compared with others in the State.

For statistics in these matters, we would respectfully refer you to the appraisement of railroad property of this State for the year 1869, and also to the reports of the several District Boards of Equalization for the same year. In the one case, we have railroad property in this State, complete and in operation, that is estimated by competent judges to have cost at least eighty millions of dollars ($80,000,000), and yet it is returned for taxable purposes at a total of less than ten million dollars, while the railroad property of the State of Ohio is appraised for taxation fifty millions of dollars. With this gross inequality existing between the valuation of this species of property and the real property of the State, and a still greater inequality in the valuation of the different railroads, we find that we have no power to remedy the evil, as under the law of 1865, for the appraisement of railroads, it is made the duty of this Board to grant such relief as may be just and equitable, upon the appeal of any railroad company from the valuation of the county appraisers; not by raising those roads that are, in the opinion of the Board, valued too low, but in reducing the appraisement of those only who complain.

The reports of the District Boards show that while in some counties the increase ranges from ten to one hundred and thirty-six per cent. on the valuation, in others the loss, as compared with the appraisement of 1864, is from ten to thirty per cent., and the total average of the State shows an increase of sixteen per cent. Hence it may be fairly inferred, that had the basis of valuation been the same throughout the State, the total average increase would have been nearer fifty per cent., and much below a cash valuation at that.

While it is true that a lower valuation of property for taxation would answer, provided it was equal, we find it the experience of all who have given the subject any attention, that whenever a cash appraisement is varied from, it is impossible to secure an equal and just valuation, and that the poorer classes of real property will, as a rule, be required to pay fifty per cent. more taxes, according to its real value, than the better classes.

As a matter of policy, also, it would seem to us to be far better for all the interests of the State, that a cash valuation should be strictly enforced, thereby securing a maximum of valuation and a minimum rate of taxation.

This result would tend to invite capital to the State for investment in commerce and manufactories that is now driven from us by the high rate of taxation throughout the State. The appraisement of the real and personal property of the State for 1869 will exceed six hundred million of dollars, ($600,000,000), and we are satisfied that a true valuation of all the real and personal property of the State, including railroads, as contemplated by the statute, would reach the enormous sum of eighteen hundred millions of dollars.

As to the State Board of Equalization, we find that under the present system circumstances might easily occur to defeat an organization at the time required by law, and probably embarrass the collection of taxes until the difficulty could be remedied by Legislation. There is also no uniformity in the time and manner of making the report required from the District Board of Equalization, and as to railroad appraisement no one is authorized to report them either to the State Board or Auditor of State, and at the present time we have no official information of the appraisement of the railroad property of the State for 1869, hence vexatious and expensive delays have occurred and will occur, or the interests of the State in this particular must be neglected.

We find that a number of County Auditors have disregarded the changes made in 1864 by the State Board of Equalization, and the State has thereby failed to receive its just proportion of taxes from these counties and an injustice has been done to those counties who in good faith accepted the changes made by the State Board. If deemed necessary such legislation should be had as will prevent the occurrence of this in the future. We would therefore earnestly recommend :

FIRST—Such legislation as will secure a true cash valuation of all personal property, subject to taxation in the State.

SECOND—The enactment of a just and equitable law for the appraisement of railroads on the same basis that other property is appraised.

THIRD—That the law authorizing Boards of Equalization be amended as to empower District Boards to elect alternates, and to authorize a majority of delegates to act, and in the absence of the Auditor of State to elect a presiding officer from their number.

FOURTH—That the Auditor of State be authorized in each year when the appraisement of real property is made to furnish suitable blank forms for the reports of the County and District Boards of Equalization, that a uniformity in the reports may be secured.

FIFTH—That certified copies of these reports must be made by the Chairman of the District Board to the Auditor of State at least five days before the meeting of the State Board of Equalization, and upon failure to comply, the officers so neglecting to be fined by said Board.

Report of committee adopted.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, CONRAD BAKER,

GOVERNOR OF INDIANA:

The Trustees of the Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind, respectfully present their Twenty-third Annual Report, with accompanying documents.

The following statement exhibits the financial condition of the Institution at the close of the current year, ending on the 31st of October, 1869.

Amount in treasury November 1, 1868, as shown by last annual report, applicable to current support to March 31, 1869.....	$15,220 03
---	-------------

Seven-twelfths of appropriation of 1869, being the proportion applicable to current expenses from April 1, 1869, to October 31, 1869.....	18,958 33
---	-----------

Specific appropriation for heating apparatus.....	10,000 00
---	-----------

Specific appropriation for window blinds.....	1,500 00
---	----------

Amount reimbursed by counties during the year on account of advances for clothing and traveling expenses of pupils.....	2,631 82
---	----------

Total resources for the current year.....	$48,310 18

---	-----------

Balance remaining in the Treasury Oct. 31, 1869....	$663 78
---	----------

The resources of the Institution for the current fiscal year, beginning on the 1st of November, 1869, and ending with the 31st of October, 1870, are as follows:

Balance in the Treasury as shown above.....	$ 663 78
Five-twelfths of appropriation, applicable to current support from Nov. 1, 1869, to April 1, 1870.....	13,541 67
Seven-twelfths of appropriation, applicable to current support from April 1, 1870, to October 31, 1870....	18,958 33
Total resources.....	$33,163 78

With this sum we hope to be able to maintain the Institution, in its present efficient condition, during the year upon which we have now entered; but it will require the strictest watchfulness and economy. We are fortunate in having at the head of the Institution, as Superintendent, Wm. H. Churchman, A. M., who has so ably managed its affairs during nearly its entire history. His well-known integrity and great experience, give us the best assurance that whatever can be accomplished with the means at our disposal, will be accomplished in the best manner.

The term of this officer expired on the 30th day of September, 1869, and he was unanimously re-elected for a further term of four years.

Mr. William M. Stilwell continues in the service of the Board as its Secretary, and also as Steward of the Institution, and merits our unreserved commendation.

Reference is made to the carefully prepared exhibits shown in the Secretary's Report herewith accompanying, by which the expenditures of the past year are presented in a plain and satisfactory manner.

The Superintendent's Report, also accompanying, details at sufficient length, the present gratifying condition of the Institution, in its several departments. It affords us special gratification to announce a higher degree of efficiency in every respect, than has been attained heretofore. The new steam heating apparatus renders the house comfortable, healthy and comparatively safe—conditions never possible under former modes of warming.

Reviewing the history of the Institution; and remembering the many recent manifestations of the favor of Divine Providence, we are moved to offer special thanksgiving; and feel that we are entering upon a new career of usefulness in this interesting work, under conditions so favorable as to warrant us in hoping for the best results.

Respectfully submitted,

P. H. JAMESON, President.

JOHN BEARD, }
JOHN S. SPANN, } Trustees.

Attest:

W. M. STILWELL, Secretary.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 1, 1869.

Respectfully submitted,

W. M. STILWELL, Secretary.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 1, 1869.

APPENDIX B.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES—

Gentlemen:

The undersigned begs leave to submit the following brief summary, as his official report for the year just closed:

ASSISTANT OFFICERS.

In the latter part of December last, the position of Mrs. M. L. Scribner, as teacher of one of the primary grades of the school, was vacated and her place temporarily supplied, during the remainder of the session, by one of our advanced pupils. For the current session Miss Hattie A. Carpenter has been appointed to the charge of the grade alluded to, and gives promise of success, in this, to her, new field of labor.

The remaining literary teachers of the last session were all re-appointed for the present one, at the commencement of the vacation; but subsequently Miss E. D. Starr, who had rendered acceptable service in our work for two years, tendered her resignation, and her place was supplied by the engagement of Mrs. C. C. Wynn of this city, a teacher of some years successful experience with the seeing. She also gives promise of good success in our special work.

In the department of music, Mr. R. A. Newland continues to render valuable service as principal teacher, and his brother, Dallas Newland, also a graduate of this institution, has been engaged for the current session as his assistant. Mr. G. B. Loomis, teacher of music in the city schools, likewise continues with his usual success to give semi-weekly vocal instruction to each of two large classes in our school.

In the household department all of the officers of last year were re-appointed, but I have to record the subsequent resignation of Miss L. D. Hawley as matron, and the appointment of Mrs. A. C. Landis of this city, as her successor. Miss Hawley had been with us for four years in the position named, discharging its duties in a creditable manner, and left to assume a similar charge in the Baptist Female Institute of this city, to which she had been appointed. Of the qualifications of her successor for the onerous cares and responsibilities of the charge undertaken by her, I need say but little to the members of your Board, to whom she is so well known. Suffice it to add that she has thus far fully justified the high commendations of her friends.

In the change of officers just alluded to, we have found it practicable to make a long desired improvement in our organization, by which the male pupils are brought more immediately under the motherly care and influence of the matron. Hitherto, the female pupils have enjoyed almost the exclusive care of that officer. They are now placed under the immediate oversight of the lady who has charge of their manual instruction, thus bringing her into the relation of governess to them, and leaving the Matron at liberty to administer more fully to the physical and moral needs of the boys. The wisdom of this change will be at once apparent to you.

For the current year our corps of assistant officers is as follows:

Teachers in the Literary Department.—Miss M. E. Hanna, Miss S. A. Scofield, Mrs. C. C. Wynn, Miss M. D. Naylor and Miss H. A. Carpenter.

Teachers in the Music Department.—Mr. R. A. Newland, Mr. D. Newland and Mr. G. B. Loomis.

Instructors in Handicraft.—Mr. J. W. Bradshaw and Miss P. W. Hawley.

Attending Physician.—Dr. J. M. Kitchen.

Steward.—Mr. W. M. Stilwell

Matron.—Mrs. A. C. Landis.

Girls' Governess.—Miss P. W. Hawley.

PUPILS.

Appended hereto will be found a catalogue of the pupils in attendance during the last school year or session, ending June 30, 1869. It has hitherto been our practice to catalogue the pupils enrolled during the fiscal year covered by our report, instead of the school year as in the present instance, but it is thought better to conform hereafter to the practice of other institutions in this respect.

The whole number in attendance, as exhibited by the catalogue, was one hundred and two. Forty-seven males and fifty-five females.

The following table shows the number received from each of the several counties of the State.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

No change worthy of note in the conduct of this department has taken place since my last report. There is, therefore, no need of communicating anything further under this head, than to say in general terms that the progress of the pupils in their various literary and musical studies will compare favorably with that of any previous year.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

On account of the limited accommodations afforded by our present building, as explained in my last report, we have been unable, without excluding applicants of appropriate age for school instruction, to admit as large a number of special work pupils as in former years. Therefore, the results in the male branch of this department, in the way of imparting instruction to adult male pupils have been correspondingly small. Nevertheless, what has been done, has been well done, by those in charge of the shops.

Below will be found the usual statistical tables of this department:

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

Under this head I am permitted to record several important improvements which add materially to the health, comfort and domestic convenience of our household, as well as the safety of the buildings from fire, and the general appearance of the premises. The principal of these is the construction of the steam heating works provided for by the last Legislature, together with the necessary out-buildings and other structures pertaining thereto.

The system of warming adopted by us, after a careful inspection of the most approved appliances now in use, is a modification of that employed by the Union Steam and Water Heating Company of New York, whose apparatus is put up in this and several States west of us, by A. L. Winne & Co., of Chicago, Illinois. All of the steam work proper, excepting the boilers, which were furnished by Sinker & Co., of this city, was contracted for with the Chicago firm just mentioned, upon exceedingly favorable terms, and executed in the best possible manner by their gentlemanly and experienced foreman, Mr. Albert Galloway.

Incidentally to the main design of the steam fixtures in question, i. e. the warming and ventilating of the building, advantage has been taken of the opportunity offered by their introduction, to greatly improve our appliances for clothes washing, bathing, dish-washing, etc. So that our arrangements for these purposes are now very complete.

It was originally contemplated, to place the boilers of the heating apparatus, as well as the radiating surface, in the cellar of the main building, thus avoiding the expense of any outside structure for the purpose. And our estimate of the appropriation needed was based upon that expectation; but subsequent investigation showed this plan to be impracticable for various reasons. It was therefore, decided to erect an appropriate and substantial boiler-house and smoke-stack in the rear of the main building, which necessitated the further construction of a tunnel between the two buildings, for the conveyance of the main supply and return pipes to and from the former. It was also found best, while putting up the boiler-house, to build in connection therewith a commodious laundry, and thus supply an imperative need of long standing with us.

These several structures are now fully completed and fitted up. And besides being neatly and substantially built, they are found to be admirably adapted to the ends in view.

The building comprising the boiler-house and laundry is of brick, one story in height, covered with slate, and surmounted by a neat ventilating cupola. The boiler-house section is forty feet in depth, by thirty-two feet in width; and the laundry, which forms a wing to the boiler-house, thirty-two feet deep by thirty-six feet long, the height of both sections being sixteen feet to the square.

The smoke-stack, standing in the rear of the boiler-house, and nearly in contact with it, is a brick shaft with a heavy stone base, octagonal in form, externally, and ninety-five feet in height. Interiorly, the stack forms a circular flue, thirty-eight inches in diameter.

The tunnel is three and a-half feet wide by four and a-half high, and about two hundred and fifty feet in length. It is built of brick, and sunk three and a-half feet below the surface of the ground.

The boiler-house and laundry are located at a distance of two hundred feet from the rear walls of the wings of the main building, and two hundred and fifty feet from the main wall of the central section thereof. The principal object in selecting so remote a location for this structure, was to leave ample space for the contemplated extension of the main building rearward; but several incidental advantages were also gained at the same time, not the least of which is the perfect security against any possible casualty which may arise from the use of steam.

In addition to the foregoing items in the way of construction, we have, during the past season, put up a substantial extension to the rear, central projection of the main building. The prime object of this improvement was to enlarge the organ-room of the chapel, but the incidental increase of space in the other stories of the building proves likewise a valuable acquisition to us in the way of room.

Again with the appropriation granted for this purpose by the last Legislature, we have completed the fitting up of the entire edifice with inside blinds, and thus supplied a long existing want in our building.

Finally, besides numerous other improvements and repairs upon the premises of a minor character, the appearance of the grounds has been greatly benefitted by the removal of the unsightly building and smoke-stack which have so long crowded and disfigured the space between the wings of the main building.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. CHURCHMAN,

Superintendent.

APPENDIX E.

INDIANA INSTITUTE FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

TO THE PUBLIC.

This Institution is located at Indianapolis, the capital of the State, occupying a healthful and beautiful site in the northern part of the city.

It is strictly an educational establishment, having for its object the moral, intellectual and physical training of the young blind of both sexes residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither an asylum for the aged and helpless, nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

We are almost daily in receipt of applications from persons who wish to be treated for the cure of blindness, and we here take occasion to explain, for the benefit of such, that we have no surgical or medical department connected with our Institution. The Chicago Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, however, we learn from its reports, has treated many Indiana patients without charge, where there is inability to pay; and it may be worth while, therefore, for parties desiring medical treatment, to address their inquiries to that establishment.

For the information of applicants and other interested parties, the following compilation is made from the regulations of the Institute, viz:

1. The school year commences on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and closes on the last Wednesday in June following, making a continuous session of forty weeks, and leaving a vacation of twelve weeks during the warm season.

2. As a rule, applicants who are under nine or over twenty-one years of age, are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

3. No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral character, will be knowingly admitted into the Institute; and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction or disobedient to the regulations of the Institute, such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

4. No charge is made for the boarding and instruction of pupils from the State of Indiana, but those from without the State are charged at the rate of $200 per session of forty weeks, payable in advance, i. e., one-half at the beginning and the other half at the middle of the session.

5. All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantity as to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

6. Each article of clothing should be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good condition, not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacations.

7. In cases where the parents or guardians of pupils from the State of Indiana, are unable through indigence, to supply them with the necessary clothing, the same is, by law, provided by the Institution, and the amount of its cost collected from the respective counties in which such pupils reside; like provision is also made for defraying the traveling expenses of indigent pupils to and from the Institute.

8. It is positively required that every pupil shall be removed from the Institution during the annual vacation of the school, as well as at any other time when such removal may be deemed necessary by the proper officers thereof; and in case of the failure of the friends of any pupil to comply with this requisition, provision is made by law for the sending of such pupil to the Trustee of the township in which he or she resides, to be by him provided for at the expense of the county.

9. Persons bringing pupils to the Institution, or visiting them while there, cannot be accommodated with boarding and lodging during their stay in the city.

10. All letters to the pupils should be addressed to the care of the Institute, in order to insure their prompt delivery.

11. Persons wishing to procure the admission of pupils, should apply to the Superintendent, by letter or otherwise, for printed instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the Institute until such instructions shall have been complied with.

BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

FOR THE

STATE OF INDIANA.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:
ALEXANDER H. CONNER, STATE PRINTER.

1869.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

JANUARY, 1870.

To His Excellency, Conrad Baker;

Governor of Indiana :

In accordance with the provisions of section 122 of the school laws, I herewith submit my Biennial Report, for the year 1869, setting forth the Enumeration of White and Colored Children, the additions to the School Fund, the amount of School Revenue collected and distributed within the year, and other matters pertaining to the workings of our School System.

I—ENUMERATION.

The number of Children enumerated between the ages of six and twenty-one years is—

Males.....	309,193
Females	288,563
		<hr/>
Total.....		597,756
Cass county	7,905
Colored Children reported.....	4,994
Whole number.....		610,655

I have not been able to obtain from the Examiner of Cass County an official statement of the enumeration of that county, and have been compelled to accept the number above stated, the males and females not having been separately reported. And here I might be permitted to state, that he has failed, also, to forward his Statistical Report for the past year, so that, in making the footings of the Examiners' Reports, I have had to use the report from Cass county for 1868. I have referred the matter to the Commissioners of that County.

The Enumeration of the Colored Children has been so irregularly taken that I am unable to present even a fair statement of their number, a majority only of the Examiners having reported them separately.

II—SCHOOL FUND.

First, Common School Fund—

Amount of Fund, June, 1868.....	$1,522,410 28
Since added from Fines and forfeitures.....	35,755 57
Since added from other sources.....	806 87

Amount June, 1869.....$1,558,972 72

Second, Congressional Township Fund—

Amount of Fund, June, 1868.....	$2,211,455 51
Since added from sale of lands.....	12,944 26

Amount June, 1869.....$2,224,399 77

Add value of 21,801 acres of unsold lands..... 107,919 15

Total amount of Fund, June, 1869.....$2,332,218 92

All these funds are productive, yielding an annual interest, except $107,919 15, the estimated value of 21,801 acres of unsold Congressional Township School Lands.

In accordance with an act approved May 14, 1869, Vermillion and Lake counties were allowed to adjust their Congressional Township Funds with this Office—the fund of the former county having been reported in 1865 $239 87, and that of the latter county $172 38, in excess of the amounts held by those counties.

3—SCHOOL FUND PROPER.

Non-negotiable State Bonds.....	$3,551,316 15
Common School Fund.....	1,558,972 72
Congressional Fund.....	2,224,399 77
Value of unsold Congressional lands....	107,919 15

<hr/>
Total.....	$8,350,368 69

III—REVENUES.

The sources of our Revenue, and the amounts collected from each, for the year ending October 15, 1869, are as follows:

1. Apportioned by the department.

Collected by tax.....	$ 987,563 41
Interest on Common School Fund.....	108,710 38
Liquor Licenses	89,258 00
Unclaimed Fees.....	1,249 75

Other sources.....	36,437 84
<hr/>

Total revenue collected for apportionment.....	$1,496,388 35
Amount apportioned.....	1,489,052 92

2. Apportioned by Counties.

Interest on Congressional Fund collected and appor- tioned by the Counties.....	$154,447 33
--	--------------

To this should be added the revenue derived from local taxation for tuition, which is a source of great wealth to our schools in many localities. I am unable to determine the amount for the past year, having for the first time issued blanks to have it reported.

Whole amount apportioned during the year.....	$1,653,500 25
---	----------------

The amount of Revenue expended for tuition for the year ending September 1st, as reported by the Examiners, was

For 1869.....	$1,685,915 04
For 1868.....	1,474,832 49
<hr/>

Increase for 1869.....	$211,082 55
------------------------	--------------

The amount of Special School Revenue expended for the year, ending September 1st, as reported by the Examiners, was

For 1869.....	$1,074,421	27
For 1868.....	1,050,139	03
		<hr/>
Increase for 1869.....	$24,283	25

IV—MISCELLANEOUS.

The following statistics are obtained from the Examiner's Reports for the year ending September 1st:

AVERAGE COST PER MONTH FOR EACH PUPIL REGISTERED.

1868, tuition alone.....	$	70
1869, tuition alone.....		80
1868, tuition and incidentals.....	1	03
1869, tuition and incidentals.....	1	00
1868, all expenses.....	1	34
1869, all expenses.....	1	11
1868, annual cost for each pupil in average daily attendance.	5	21
1869, annual cost for each pupil in average daily attendance.	5	75
Number of Male Teachers employed	6,730
Number of Female Teachers employed.....	4,274
Number of pupils registered.....	459,916
Average daily attendance.....	293,161
Number of volumes in the Township Library... ..	285,100
Number of volumes borrowed during the year.....	109,588
Number of volumes added during the year.....	6,567
Number of school houses in the State	8,666
Number of school houses built within the year.....	405
Cost of same.....	$556,607

The average daily attendance is not strictly correct, as in a few counties the average of the schools of the township was reported, instead of the sum of the averages, hence the apparent increase for 1869 of the average cost per pupil.

OFFICIAL VISITS.

In my official visits, which have extended to but 34 counties, I have been highly gratified to find a general interest in the subject of Education. A large expenditure has been made the past year on school edifices in cities and incorporated towns as well as in the rural districts. Corporate towns having a population of 2,500 and above, are generally erecting buildings which cost from $16,000 to $50,000, giving special attention to convenience, neatness, ventilation and warming apparatus. The schools in these buildings at once assume a high grade.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

Every year gains upon its predecessor in the efficiency of its Teachers. Many of our young people have sought a practical acquaintance with the Theory and Practice of Teaching, as taught in the best Normal Institutions of other States, and in the school-room and in County Institutes have greatly elevated the educational standard, and awakened a spirit of competition and improvement that is showing its good fruits all over the State.

THE OPENING OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL took place on the 5th of this month, at Terre Haute, under the Presidency of William A. Jones. He has the confidence of those who know him, as an able, practical Normal Educator. Many difficulties will have to be surmounted in the organization of such an Institution, and in reaching the results desired. The Building is but partially finished, but affords elegant apartments for present use. We may look to the future with sanguine expectations of success. I set apart, by request of the Normal School Board—due notice having been given of the organization of the Faculty by the Trustees—$5,000, subject to their order, for the Institution, in the October apportionment for 1869.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

Some embarrassment has been felt in the establishment of schools for colored children, on account of the want of an equitable share of Revenue in the Counties where this people exist. Colored Children not having been included in the basis of the May distribution, their claims by that much diminish the resources of other schools. The people, however, generally have submitted generously to the embarrassments of the case, and have established colored schools as the law requires. The reports I have received from them, represent them in a prosperous and satisfactory condition.

Desiring to return thanks to the Allwise Ruler of the Universe for the health, peace and prosperity of the people of the State for the past year, on which our educational interests so much depend, I respectfully submit my report.

BARNABAS C. HOBBS,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

OF THE

INDIANA STATE PRISON

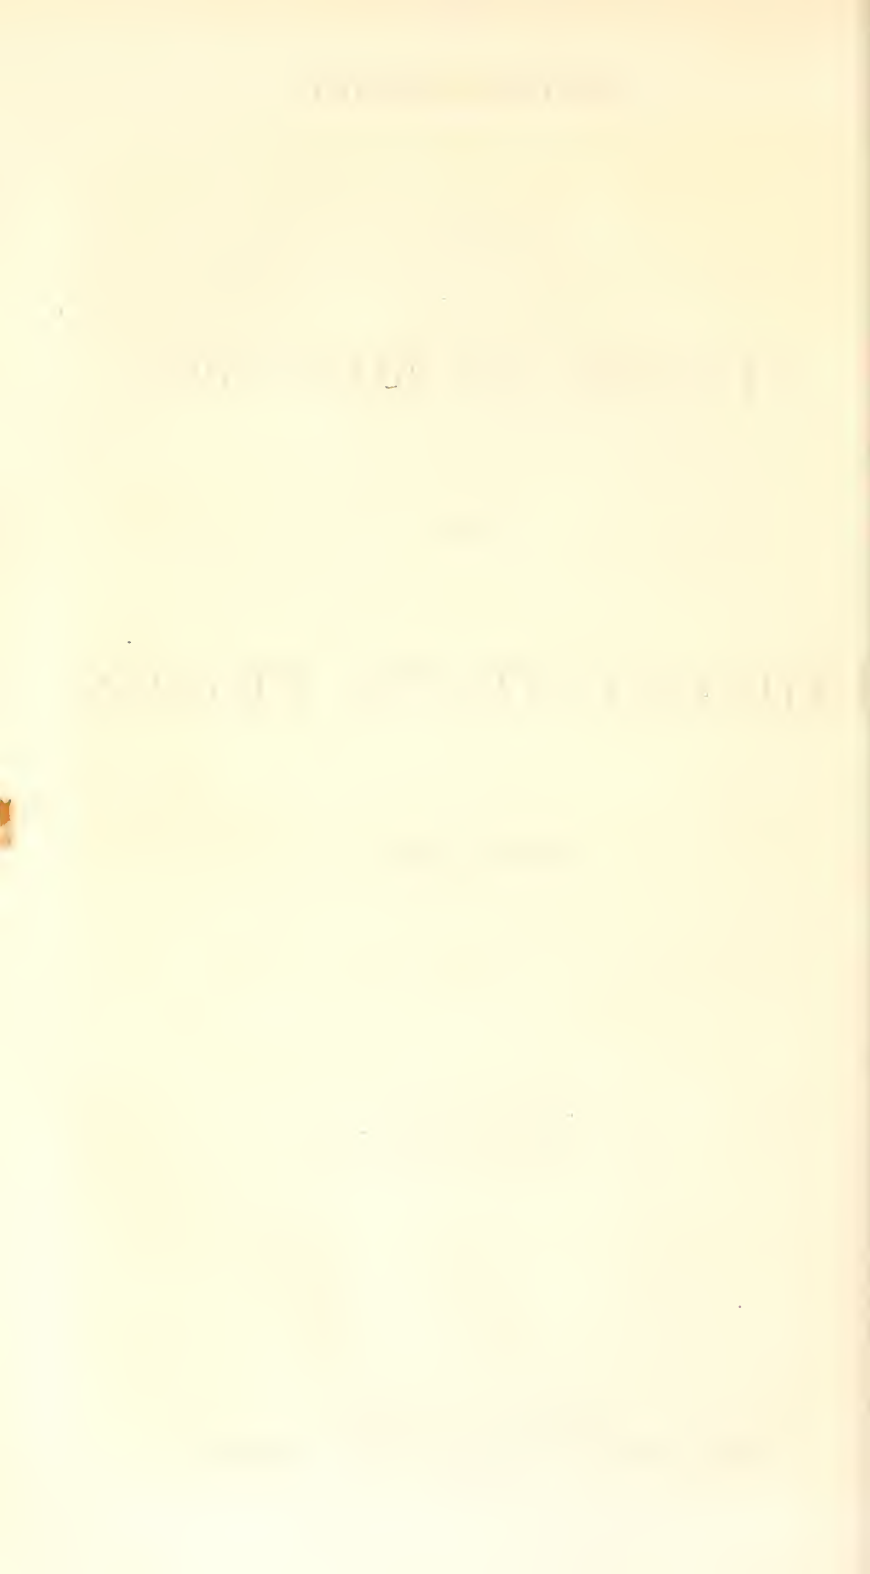

SOUTH.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:

ALEXANDER H. CONNER, STATE PRINTER.

1869.

REPORT OF DIRECTORS.

OFFICE OF INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
JEFFERSONVILLE, January 5, 1870.

HON. CONRAD BAKER, Governor of Indiana :

SIR—Pursuant to the requirements of law we submit this as our annual report of the condition of the State Prison intrusted to our management.

On the 23d of December, 1868, the resignation of the late Warden was tendered to the Directors, and by them accepted. Col. Laurence S. Shuler, of Hendricks county, was immediately elected to the position, and entered on the discharge of his duties on the first of January following. Two of the present Directors were elected by the last Legislature.

The present Deputy Warden and a majority of the guards are also new appointees; hence the past year has witnessed a substantial change of the managers of the Institution. With this change of men there has been also a radical change of measures.

Col. Shuler entered on his office fully believing that a government of moral influences was not only practicable, but far preferable to one of violence and cruelty, more conformable to the political principles and enlightened judgment of the State, and better for the welfare of the convicts and the public; and on this belief he has endeavored to act. In this he has had the hearty support of the Directors and a portion of the officers; but others, long accustomed to different measures, resisted the change as a dangerous innovation. This feeling of opposition finally culminated in charges against the Warden, in substance that he was incompetent, encouraged insubordination, and endangered public security. On examination by the Directors, the animus of the charge was so evidently hostility to the system of government which had their sanction that they dismissed them, and approved such changes of subordination as were necessary to bring all into harmony.

The Directors believe that the system they indorsed by this action is not only dictated by humanity but approved by the experience of every penal institution where it has been fairly tried, and if it must be regarded as an experiment in this State they take a great deal of pleasure in affirming that it has so far been eminently successful. For proof they refer to the reports of the officers which accompany this, and especially the somewhat enthusiastic report of the Chaplain, whose seven years' experience entitle him to be heard. The improved morale of the prison is apparent to the most casual observer, and the Directors are only acknowledging real merit in saying that the success so far attained is due to the admirable qualifications of the Warden.

The financial administration of the prison appears to us sound and healthy, although the Institution is not self-sustaining. While we have not intended to sanction any waste or useless expenditure, we are free to say that our chief attention has been directed to ameliorations in the condition of the convicts. The Warden's report states the deficiency at $2,250.79, and shows ample reasons for its existence. We have all the female convicts of the State; their labor is unproductive, and the cost of maintaining them and paying their Matron equals this deficiency. Add to this that the average rate of our contracts is not much less than that of the Northern Prison; that the difference in this alone would equal three times the deficiency; and then add the cost of the loss of time elsewhere spoken of, and it will be seen that we have had to face insuperable difficulties. If it should be asked why we have let our convicts at an average of forty-four cents, while the Northern Prison is equal to fifty cents, and other States receive sixty and eighty, our answer is, first, that these contracts were made before the accession of the present management, and hence we cannot help it; second, that the contracts were made according to law — that is, with the highest bidders, after advertisement; third, and that the present contractors have gradually extended their machinery and other facilities for work until now no one feels able to bid against them successfully. The Directors will gladly remedy this whenever the opportunity or power is furnished.

It will be seen that during the year the Warden has drawn from the State treasury appropriations to the amount of $7,500, nearly all of which was required for repairs and old debts.

The repairs of this year embrace a great variety of details, have been examined and approved by the Directors, and are all of them such as were essential; and it is but fair to say that the real cost was far greater than the amount charged to the State, the contractors having contributed liberally to those in which they had an interest; and yet, as stated by the Warden, the general dilapidation of walls and buildings is such as to make up an annual bill of expense.

After a thorough examination of the balance-sheets, books and vouchers of the Clerk we are satisfied that they are correct, and that the figures given by the Warden are a true statement of results, but we find the method of entries and balances in use to be difficult of analysis and liable to be misunderstood, so that when published they are easily perverted; hence we have advised such changes as will obviate all difficulties, and hope next year to present a Clerk's balance-sheet which every one can readily understand.

The Physician's report shows a highly satisfactory sanitary condition in the prison for the last year, and is creditable to the professional ability of that officer; but duty requires us to call attention to the fearful list of casualties presented in his tables. Of the (245) two hundred and forty-five cases reported, nearly all resulted from the use of machinery. One of them proved fatal, and many of them are permanent injuries. The aggregate loss of time to the State is a serious evil, while the wrong done to the convicts is frightful. A system of contracts producing such results should not be continued in any enlightened State.

We find that a proper recognition of the rights and usefulness of the Chaplain, by the Warden, has stimulated him to greater efforts, from which happy results have followed. We have before referred to his report of the evident improvement of the condition of the prison, and are confident the future will justify his enthusiasm.

The money appropriated by the Legislature for the prison library has been judiciously expended, and the books prove to be a valuable aid to improvement.

In the female department the Matron reports great improvement in the general deportment and cheerful obedience of the inmates. The introduction of knitting machines not only turns the labor of the inmates of this department into a profitable channel, but greatly meliorates their necessarily strict confinement to limited space by furnishing regular and constant occupation; and, although another year will probably remove them from our control, we shall encourage the Warden in his efforts to introduce new employments as our funds will permit, knowing that this will be a good preparation for their transfer, and will serve both the moral and material interests of the State.

While the Directors feel that much remains to be done in order to bring the prison up to a just ideal, and realize that there are great difficulties to be overcome, they are sure that some progress has been made. They will not forget that this is a place of penal servitude, sanction any relaxation of discipline, nor tamper with the security of the prisoners or the public. But they have great faith in the power of kindness while administered with an intelligent and firm hand, and will strive to realize that noble declaration of the Bill of Rights, that "the penal code of the State should be founded on the principle of reformation, and not of vindictive justice."

No recommendations are made concerning existing evils, because the Directors are aware that the Governor can give no legislative relief, and they hope that the experience of another year will enable them to recommend more judiciously.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. W. CURRY,
R. S. HEISKILL,
F. M. MERIDETH,

WARDEN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
December 15, 1869.

To the Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN — I have the honor to submit this my first annual report for the fiscal year ending this date.

From an analysis of the balance-sheets of the Clerk it will be found that the total receipts of the prison for the year have been $63,297.85, as follows: Convict labor, $50,301.53; United States convicts and other sources, $5,496.32; from State appropriations, $7,500. This is balanced by expenses as follows: Prison expenses proper, $36,058.50; paid discharged convicts, $2,565; salaries of officers and guards, $18,185.77; repairs of prison, $5,219.82; debts of last year, $1,269.76. The total receipts, exclusive of special appropriations by the State, amount to $54,557.48, and the total expenses, exclusive of old debts and repairs, $56,808.27; showing an excess of expenditures of $2,250.79.

We cannot yet claim that our prison is self-sustaining; but, in view of a number of circumstances, that we are able to make it nearly so is a source of congratulation.

Our contracts made before the accession of the present management are at the average of forty-four cents per day, while the average at the Northern Prison is fifty cents, a difference in their favor equal to $6,500 per year.

We have all the female convicts of the State, whose labor is altogether unproductive, and who are an expense in all prisons; and, from the Physician's report, it will be seen that there is a great loss of time among the men (and in this case time is money) from accidents arising from the large amount of machinery used under the present contractors. On the whole, therefore, I submit the pecuniary showing with satisfaction.

When I took charge of the prison as Warden, on the first of January last, I found a rather bad state of repairs throughout the Institution. The felt roofing which had been put on the shops was in a very leaky condition, and which it was necessary to have repaired at a cost of several hundred dollars, and nearly all of the spouting around the buildings was worn out, and that had to be replaced with new. There was a great deficiency in the water arrangements, owing to which the supply was inadequate to the want in the various parts of the building. We, in consequence, had two large tanks erected in the buildings, and pipes carrying the water, fresh and wholesome, through the hospital and other parts where it was required.

The room occupied by Messrs. Hopkins & Staunton as a collar manufactory was too small and crowded for them to do their work with facility, as well as uncomfortable for the convicts employed therein. We therefore had the partition wall taken out which divided this room from the State shoe-shop, giving them the whole upper story over the dining-room.

Two partition walls which encumbered the dining-room were taken out, thereby enabling the Deputy Warden to oversee all the convicts while they are eating. A large stove has been set up in this room, which renders it comfortable.

The female workshop, which was in the north side of the east wing of the building, has been changed into the south side of said wing, in the female department proper, thereby rendering that department secluded from the other parts of the prison.

The building enclosing the boilers attached to the shops, on the east side of the yard, was in a dilapidated condition, and it was necessary to have it rebuilt. I therefore agreed with Messrs. Hall, Moore & Burkhardt to pay $500 towards said improvement, which they did at a cost additional to themselves of some five or six hundred dollars.

The blacksmith shop, which was completed in 1868, was constructed with solid walls ventilated only in the roof, but during the warm weather last summer found it so uncomfortable for the men working there, we had two windows with grating put in the south end of the building.

I would here call your attention to the unsafe condition of this shop, being constructed without the prison wall it affords the best facility for escape. Some three or four convicts have already made their escape through the skylight, and several have been caught while attempting to make their exit through the same, and it requires the greatest vigilance on the part of the guards in order to prevent numerous escapes through this building.

The hospital has been completely renovated, bath-tubs put up, and a number of alterations made, which renders its arrangement so perfect that I believe it is inferior to no other institution of the kind in the country. For details of this department I refer you to the Physician's Report.

The dwellings of the Warden and Deputy Warden were in a very bad condition, and I found it necessary to have considerable repairs done on them in order to make them tenantable.

The Legislature at its last session appropriated $1,000 to replenish the library, which amount has been expended for that purpose; this gives us, although not a large, yet a very respectable library, and is sufficient to the present want of the convicts. For all details connected with this department I refer you to the report of the Rev. J. W. Sullivan, the Moral Instructor.

In order that the females might be profitably employed, I purchased two knitting machines last fall, and all of the socks for the use of convicts since that time have been manufactured by them. It is also contemplated to set up two looms, and manufacture our stripes, which I think can be done at a great saving to the State.

During the last several months we have been using a low grade of wheat flour for bread, from the fact that it is about as cheap as corn at present prices. It is in contemplation to change the stones in the mill in order to enable us to grind wheat to make Graham bread, and also wish as speedily as possible to set up a hominy mill, which will be a great convenience as well as an economical measure.

I wish particularly to call your attention to the very badly conducted and poorly ventilated condition of the cell houses; various means have been resorted to in order to improve them, but have failed, and find that all that has been done has accomplished but little in the way of a free circulation of a pure atmosphere.

I will also call your attention to the very bad condition of the walls surrounding the prison. A greater part of the coping has crumbled off, leaving the walls exposed to the weather, in consequence of which they have become much damaged, and, in fact, they are not sufficiently high to prevent escapes, requiring all the time the utmost watchfulness on the part of the guards.

It has been the custom heretofore to enforce discipline by the use of the "cat," and the most trivial as well as flagrant cases of violations of rules were punished by the use of that instrument, without stint. When I entered on the duties of Warden I determined very materially to modify this mode of punishment, if not abolish it entirely. In this I met with remonstrances from nearly all connected with the prison. Contractors and their foremen were strongly opposed to the inauguration of any new system of discipline, and, in fact, a part of the officers and guards did not for a time co-operate or sympathize with me in my endeavors to inaugurate a system of discipline which had for its object the treatment of convicts humanely. Many of those men (no doubt honest in their opinion) had so long been accustomed to see the lash applied so indiscriminately to offenders, had become confirmed in the belief that it was essential to good order, and that any kindness shown to, or humane treatment of, convicts was merely casting pearls before swine. Since the 1st of January last the lash has been resorted to in but very few cases, and I believe it can be dispensed with altogether, and that a better state of discipline can be achieved by modes of punishment less degrading to manhood. My experience of the past year has confirmed me in this belief.

There are remaining 392 convicts in the prison (14 of whom are females), and this is just about the average daily number during the year. The year previous was about ten more. Yet I believe the facts will sustain me in the assertion that about twenty per cent. more work has been turned out of the shops during the year just closed than the year previous.

Allow me to call your attention to a tabular statement, marked "A," accompanying the Physician's Report, and I think you will be surprised at the very large proportion of wounded men to the whole number received in the hospital. These men are injured (and many of them very seriously,) by the various machinery in the shops while pursuing their usual labor, and yet by the terms of the contracts made with the parties who hire the labor, we receive nothing for their time while undergoing treatment in the hospital. The amount of loss to the labor account, from this cause, is a very large item in the course of the year.

We have a convict now in this prison, named Ignatius Buchanan, who was convicted of murder, and sentenced for life, in 1866, and who has for more than a year been insane. I think that the cause of humanity would dictate that some effort should be made in order, if possible, to have him transferred to the Hospital for the Insane, where he might be enabled to receive the proper treatment for his malady.

For particulars regarding the Female Department I refer you to the report of Mrs. E. Gerber, the Matron.

I am under many obligations to the Rev. J. W. Sullivan, Moral Instructor, Dr. L. W. Beckwith, Physician, and R. J. Forsyth, Clerk, for the faithful manner in which they have performed the duties of their respective departments.

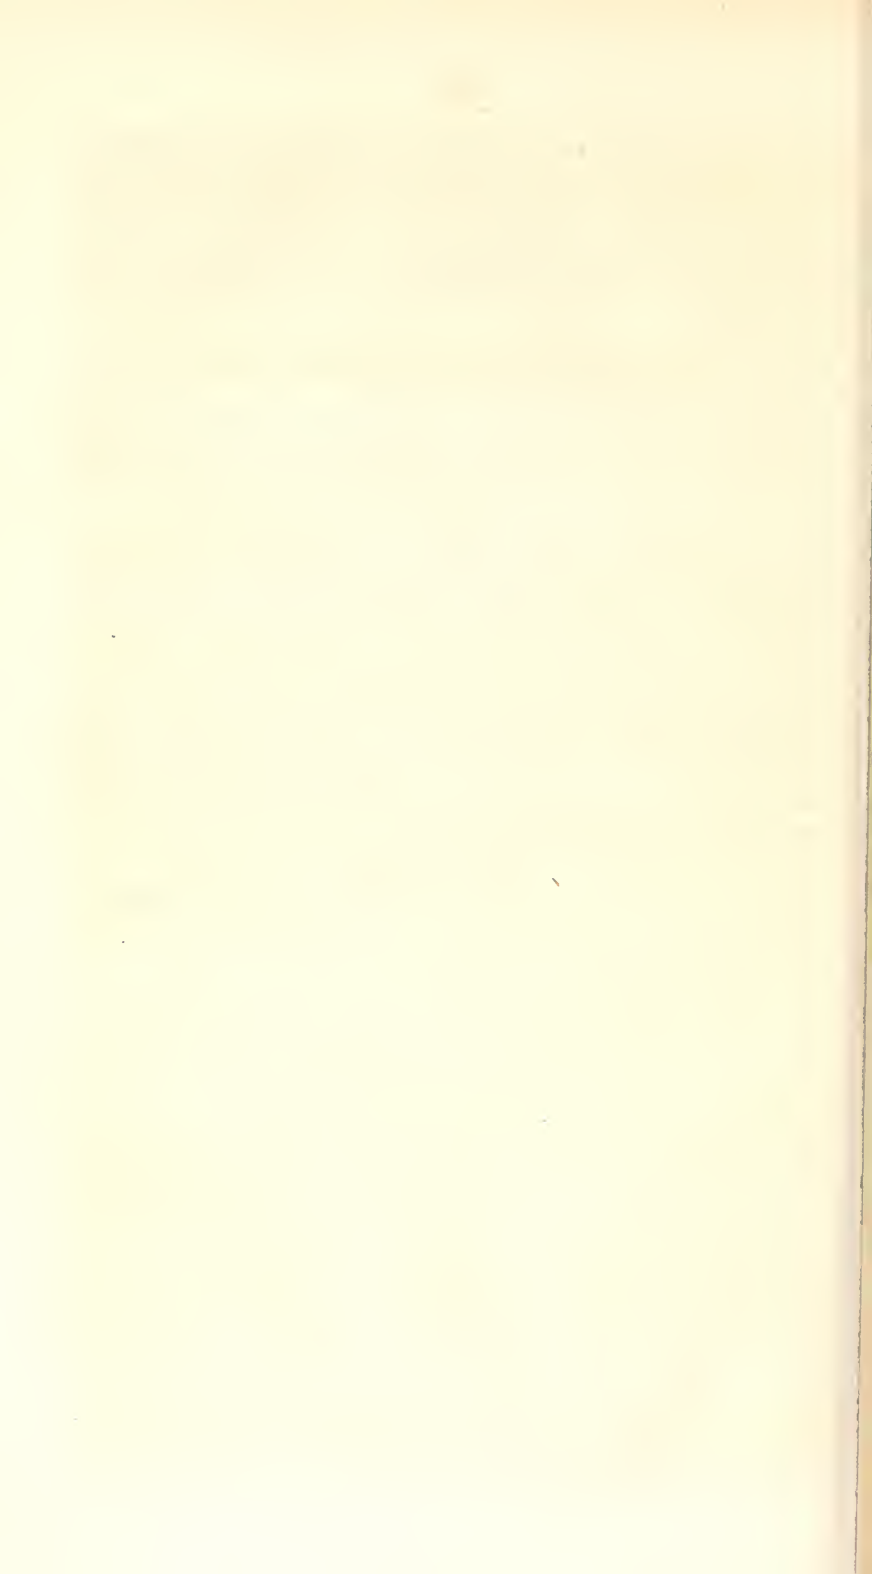

Our new Deputy Warden, Major A. M. Luke, is zealously endeavoring to become acquainted with the details of his duties, and I hope soon to have in him an efficient officer who will relieve me from excessive labor.

And I would express my warmest thanks to you, gentlemen, for the prompt manner in which you have responded to my recommendations made from time to time, and hope for a continuance of that harmony of feeling which has characterized our past social intercourse.

With much respect,

Your ob't serv't

L. S. SHULER, Warden.

REPORT OF MORAL INSTRUCTOR.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
December 15th, 1869.

To the Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN—With your permission I would wish to date this report from the 1st of January, of this year, the dawning period of a new era in the history of this Prison ; since which time, changes, marked with decided improvement, have been apparent in every department, but in none more than in the one which I represent. The Chaplaincy has been properly recognized, and the functions of that office have met with the respect which their importance demands, hence the good influence produced through that instrumentality, to an extent unprecedented in our history. The sanction given by our excellent Warden to various measures instituted for the mental culture and moral elevation of the prisoners has given them a power and efficiency they did not heretofore possess ; his presence at our Sabbath School, frequently at our prayer-meetings, and always at chapel service, has been the occasion of vast encouragement in our “ work of faith and labor of love.”

But to the proper subject matter of our report, and first, in relation to our library. It is with no small degree of pleasure that we can now say we have a good library. The appropriation of $1,000 (one thousand dollars) by the last Legislature, for this purpose, was placed in my hands, and during the past summer was applied to the purchase of books, of which the following is a synopsis of my report :

Amount for books	$ 962 49
Incidental expenses	37 51

$1,000 00

The books are all covered with coarse paper, together with what were on hand of the old library, and marked and numbered, and placed on the shelves of our newly fitted up library room, making in all more than a thousand volumes. Besides these, we have over 500 Bibles and Testaments, a large number of small books contributed to the Sabbath School, over 400 school books, old and new, which, with the 1,400 newspapers, secular, literary and religious, and 2,500 pages of tracts circulated every month, certainly supplies all the reading matter that could reasonably be required.

The method we have adopted in the distribution of our library books is a decided improvement on the old plan, as it tends to the better preservation of the books from injury and misuse, although it adds greatly to my labors, even beyond my ability to perform, yet the Warden, in his kindness, has furnished me a competent assistant, whereby we are able to carry out faithfully and promptly our new plan. The new library has been pronounced by good judges as containing a choice selection of books, and there is more reading done by the inmates now than I have known for years; there are upon an average about 300 volumes out every week—the benefits accruing therefrom cannot be fully estimated.

With regard to the facilities afforded those who cannot read or write, we have them arranged in classes in Sabbath School, furnished with spellers and readers, and under teachers appointed. Many are making rapid proficiency—besides, this class of prisoners, and none others, to the number of about 90, meet in the Chapel in the afternoon of Sabbath, and, after spending fifteen minutes in oral singing, they then employ one hour and a quarter in learning to write, a privilege highly appreciated by them, and must result in great good. The men are furnished with slates, pencils, pen, ink, and copy books, with competent teachers to instruct them.

Thus you see ample provisions are made and much is being done for the intellectual improvement of the inmates, far surpassing any former year, at least for many years past. The benefits resulting therefrom are not only seen in the proficiency made in learning to read and write, but in the manifest increased submission to prison discipline on the part of the prisoners.

There are other items which I would wish to name, in view of their importance as contributing to the general good of the Prison, and forms a striking illustration of the salutary effects of a mild and humane government over that of arbitrary coercion.

The interest taken by the Warden in the sick, the dying, and the dead, has not only called forth the sincere respect, and the warmest feelings of regard of the convicts, but it has given him a control over them unknown to his predecessors. The circumstance of his giving personal attention to the sick, visiting the hospital, dropping a kind word, watching by the bedside of the sufferer until the midnight hour, of having the corpse decently laid out, clothed in a nice shroud, white gloves and stockings, placed in a good coffin, a procession of twenty or thirty accompanying it to the grave, and appropriate religious services, conducted by the Chaplain, all in wonderful contrast to what they had ever known before, has had an effect for good the extent of which can never be known. There is a loneliness, termed by an inmate, "a feeling of forsakeness," experienced while confined within these walls, clad in stripes, and being locked up in the dismal cell, but this feeling comes with greater weight when disease fastens upon them, then to know they are kindly cared for wakes up the better feelings of their nature, superinducing resolves to lead a better life.

In granting the privilege of having some appropriate exercises on last 4th of July, in commemoration of the day, in which the prisoners mainly participated, was attended with very beneficial results. It fixed the status of Colonel Shuler as Warden, while all, with one accord, exclaimed, "The right man in the right place," as the result of an experiment at night abundantly demonstrated, which was in permitting all the prisoners, to the number of near four hundred, to remain out of their cells for two hours with liberty to do as they chose, and he alone with them, during which time not a profane word or vulgar expression was heard, or the slightest disorder took place, all vying with each other who should do the Warden the greatest honor. The effect of this still lives throughout the Prison in its controlling influence. Also in furnishing extra dinners on public days, such as was given on the 4th of July and the day of Thanksgiving, had a fine moral effect. It was difficult to determine which had the predominance in their admiration, the dinner or the kindness of the Warden. Their physical comfort in every way is looked after, in being well fed and clothed, their sleeping arrangements much improved; all taken together is most encouraging to the spirit of general subordination.

The enlarged privilege of the cell house works well. Two ranges of men are permitted to have free use of the cell house every night, including Sabbath, alternating every week. The absence of noise and disturbance, so common heretofore, gives evidence of the wisdom of the arrangement.

The latitude given the prisoners in their correspondence, which is to write and receive as many letters as they choose (on condition, however, of good behavior), has had a good effect. If we may not find precedence for this practice elsewhere in other prisons, yet from actual experiment we can witness to the wisdom and propriety of the course. Among the beneficial results are seen an improvement in penmanship, in composition, making up a love for books, and a thirst for mental culture, and in many ways is time profitably spent while committing their thoughts to paper. Besides this, to be in constant correspondence with their families, home scenes kept ever fresh and vivid before their minds serves to keep alive the domestic attachment, and to foster and encourage heart purposes to do better in future. I have observed our letter writers are generally our best men.

The privilege extended to those who are religiously disposed of having prayer-meeting in the cell-house three times a week is highly appreciated and instrumental in doing much good. These meetings are conducted by the prisoners themselves, and, having the express sanction of the Warden, others do not feel at liberty to disturb them, and the best of order prevails.

Also, the privilege given to all to attend Sabbath-school every Sabbath, who are disposed to do so. Heretofore it was one-half the number, and they alternating every other Sabbath (the most absurd arrangement imaginable). The result has been a wonderful increase in interest in our Sabbath-school exercises.

There are other privileges which might be mentioned as given to the convicts which are so characteristic of the wise policy of the Warden in his administration and government of the prison; but perhaps it is unnecessary. I do not introduce those I have referred to with a view to compliment Col. Shuler, but as an eye-witness to the practical effects and moral influence of his method of governing. I wish to bear testimony to its superiority over all methods heretofore adopted, at least in this prison. I would just state, in this connection, that these privileges are conferred at a time and in a manner as never to make an impression that they are the prisoner's right, or even as mere gratuities, but as expressions of good will and rewards for good behavior, thus furnishing a motive more powerful, more rational, to prompt to cheerful obedience, than the degrading lash. Before I dismiss this point I wish to present three facts and leave you to make your own comments :

1. Such is the moral influence pervading this prison there is scarcely to be heard an oath from one week to another.

2. Out of the one hundred and fifty-six who have left the prison this year by expiration of time and pardon, but bare three have been re-committed, and they for slight offenses, and sentenced but one year each.

3. The number of punishments, as compared with last year, is as follows:

1868.....	Stripes.....906	Days lost.....511	Reprimanded..... 106
1869.....	Stripes.....113	Days lost.....138	Reprimanded..... 64
Excess....793373 42

'Twenty-seven of the one hundred and thirteen stripes inflicted in Warden's absence, and without his authority.

These facts speak volumes, and furnish the clearest testimony of the oft repeated declaration that punishment for crime may be so administered as to be reformatory in its nature.

We have our Sabbath-school as usual, but regret to say it has measurably declined in interest. There was a decided improvement over previous years at the beginning of the present administration, when all who were disposed to attend Sabbath-school had the privilege of doing so every Sabbath. The school received new life. Then we had a fine corps of teachers from the Young Men's Christian Association, and the interest taken in the exercises was truly delightful; but from some cause our teachers, after a few months began to fail us, and we have now but two remaining—Dr. Seymour and Brother Phillips, who are regular in their attendance. This failure in teachers has had a discouraging influence. Another cause of the falling off in the attendance is the great interest taken by so many in our new books. Having so long looked for a new library, when it came they were eager to get at the books, so that a number preferred remaining in their cells to read than attend the Sabbath-school, especially when they had no assurance of a teacher. But, nevertheless, we have an interesting Sabbath-school, with an average attendance of one hundred and forty, while all appear more or less delighted with the privilege. Good impressions are being made, and some are led, through this instrumentality, to seek the Savior and become the followers of Jesus.

We have lately furnished the school with a full supply of new Bibles. There have been distributed in the school, the past year, 2,400 copies of the "American Messenger," 1,500 copies of the "Heavenly Tidings," and 900 copies of the "Good Words," besides having furnished at their cells upon an average of 3,000 pages of religious tracts every month; thus affording, in connection with our Sabbath-school, very many facilities for the enlightenment and reformation of the unfortunate victims of temptation and crime.

Being that quite a number were seriously exercised on the subject of religion it was thought expedient to form an association for their benefit, and, accordingly, on the 20th of May last, we organized what we call "The Christian Brotherhood," which to-day numbers about one hundred and thirty-five members. They meet immediately after Sabbath-school, and devote some forty-five minutes to religious conversation and prayer. These are the most interesting meetings we have; they are spiritual and profitable. Many of the members enjoy the comforts of religion, talk much to the purpose in relating their experience, and lead in prayer with great fervor and efficiency. Scenes have occurred here which doubtless have delighted angels, while we have been led to exclaim, "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes."

Our chapel service is not without interest. The prisoners have evidenced their appreciation of such exercises by contributing among themselves alone the sum of seventy-five dollars for the purchase of a large melodeon for the use of the chapel, which adds materially to the harmony and impressive character of our singing. Besides this, to show their estimate of the labors of the pulpit, and regard for the ministers of the gospel, they voluntarily contributed, on one occasion during the past summer, the sum of fifty dollars to a lady, a visiting minister of the society of Friends, for her labors among them, both as relating to her ministrations in the chapel and her instructions in the Sabbath-school, as also her personal appeals to them through the grated doors of their cells. And in another manner, though more silently, have many shown their high appreciation of religious instruction, by sending tracts, which have been handed them, inclosed in their letters to their friends, with pencil marks on the margin: "Read this; it did me much good;" "This opened my eyes and led me to Christ;" thus wishing the same benefits they received might be imparted to those they love. The attention paid to the word preached, the feeling manifested, and the fact that some have experienced the power of saving grace, demonstrates beyond all doubt that the gospel in prison and among convicts has the same power to enlighten, to redeem and save as it has outside prison walls, and we joy in God, through our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, that it is so. That there are very bad men here, on whom divine truth makes little or no impression, must be admitted; yet in my seven years Chaplaincy I have not witnessed the claims of morality and religion so generally acknowledged as at the present time, and never have I heard of so many doing well after leaving the prison as this year. All this is to be attributed, under God, to the mild, humane administration of our excellent Warden, and illustrates a most wholesome truth, that there is more virtue in mild means to enforce obedience and secure submission among convicts, more to hope for in their reformation, than in all the brutal force which may be employed. This I would proclaim with trumpet voice all over the land. The idea that criminals have forfeited all claims to kindness and human sympathy, entitled to no respect whatever, and that prisons should be made as odious as possible by the infliction of the worst forms of cruelty, is the greatest absurdity imaginable. It contradicts common sense, is at war with the dictates of humanity, and in direct hostility with the plain teaching of the "Word of Truth." But we rejoice at the success of the experiment made, now no longer such, its practicability having been so clearly demonstrated, as is frankly admitted by the hitherto skeptical connected with the prison, and fully indorsed by all. I have no doubt, gentlemen, that in regard to health, industry and cheerful submission on the part of the inmates, and harmony among the officers, you have the honor of representing the model prison of the United States.

In conclusion permit me to tender to you my sincere thanks for the respect shown me, and the estimate formed of my feeble labors by re-electing me to the Chaplaincy, and also fixing the term to a certain limit, as it relieves me from the embarrassing anxiety heretofore experienced; and I trust I will meet your expectations, fulfill all my obligations, and my fondest hopes be fully realized in witnessing greater success and prosperity than in the past.

Respectfully submitted.

JNO. W. SULLIVAN, Moral Instructor.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
December 15, 1869.

To the Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN—This has been to this Institution a memorable year ; one long to be remembered as marking an epoch in its history ; a change in the moral and physical treatment of the convicts from the old times severity to a just and more humane one, the better instincts and feelings of our frail humanity encouraged by kindness and hope, and not obtruded or deadened by the lash. In no department is this more observed and seen than in the hospital. The convict can see in this that he is not of necessity an Ishmaelite ; that his brother's hand may be lifted, not to smite, but to succor. The discipline administered by a firm but kind hand is felt by all connected with the Prison.

During the year 1,289 have been brought to me for treatment, with the 18 under treatment at my last annual report make a total of 1,390 who received medical or surgical aid. Of this number, 4 have died, 1,362 have been returned to their work, and 24 are now under treatment ; one only of these is relieved from all work.

Daniel Hawkins died of consumption on the 6th day of August. He had been under treatment during his whole term ; everything that liberality or kindness could do or procure for him to make him comfortable was done.

On the 16th of September Cyrus Miller was struck on the abdomen by a large piece of lumber thrown from a circular saw, producing congestion of the stomach, of which he died within 36 hours.

Two convicts died of flux—John Risley, a life-time man, and William Maxfield. Both of these men were past middle life.

One was doing work at the Warden's house, and fed from his table, the other fared at the prison table. No cause in the diet could be assigned as a reason for the fatal result. These men were impressed from the beginning of their illness that they were going to die, and I need not say to any one who has had experience in public hospitals how serious such presentiments are. The disease in both cases was arrested, yet the morbid fear or presentiment could not be eradicated.

There were 9,783 prescriptions made. Of course many cases of disease occurred, as usual, more than the number of those confined, showing that many suffered under attacks of disease and from accidents more than once.

With those remaining in Prison at the close of the year, 405, and those received during the year, 174, a total of 579 have been cared for. There are now 392 confined here, leaving 183 discharged and escaped and four deaths.

I cannot close this report without calling your attention, and I hope, through you, to those having some control in the premises, to the great wrong of sending imbecile prisoners to be confined with the wicked and vicious of stronger intellects. There are at this time, in the Prison, several young men so weak-minded that it would require an expert to define the line separating them from idiocy. It seems to me that this is a matter requiring no argument to show its wrong. All men, savage as well as civilized, make a distinction as to holding the strong-minded and the weak to responsibility for their actions.

During the year two cases of insanity have been under treatment; one, through the clemency of the Governor, was transferred to the Insane Asylum, the other one relieved.

The food, clothing and bedding have been excellent.

With this you will find a tabular statement and summary of complaints, &c., marked "A."

Very respectfully,

L^{OD} W. BECKWITH, Physician.

MATRON'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
December 26, 1869.

To the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN—Another year with its labors and responsibilities has fled and gone, and, while reviewing the past, I am led to inquire what have I to report from my department which would indicate progress? 'Tis true there is nothing specially cheering to present as to the intellectual advancement or moral elevation of those committed to my charge, yet in very many respects we are doing much better than heretofore. Quite a change has taken place in the general deportment and cheerful submission to Prison authority, and for whatever improvement in any respect which may have occurred with us we are greatly indebted to the humane policy pursued by our excellent Warden in the government of the Prison. There have been the most striking illustrations of the power of kindness to control, to elevate, to reform the female character, though stained by sin and blackened with crime.

But very little sickness during the year, and no death. Seven have left by expiration of time, and two by pardon. Six have come in since our last report, leaving our number fourteen.

Knowing as well as I do the disadvantages under which those unfortunate women are placed, even under favorable circumstances while here, I can but rejoice in the prospect of the speedy accomplishment of that most noble enterprise authorized by the last Legislature, the erection of a Female Prison; the benefits accruing therefrom must be incalculable.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH GERBER, Matron.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

OF THE

INDIANA STATE PRISON

NORTH.

TO THE GOVERNOR

INDIANAPOLIS:

ALEXANDER H. CONNER, STATE PRINTER.
1869.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS.

OFFICE COMMISSIONERS INDIANA STATE PRISON NORTH,
MICHIGAN CITY, December 15, 1869.

To His Excellency, Conrad Baker, Governor of Indiana:

In accordance with the law made and established on that subject, we respectfully submit this our annual report of the condition and finances of the Northern Indiana State Prison for the fiscal year ending December 15th, 1869.

The General Assembly, at its last session, appropriated the sum of four thousand dollars to erect a building in this prison, to be used as a steam boiler and engine house to heat and warm the cell house, guard house, and other buildings, and also for kitchen purposes, which building has been duly erected in a good and substantial manner, according to the plans and specifications of said prison, and corresponding in finish with the other buildings, except the roof, which is of wood shingles. The stack has been built, the boiler, engine and steam connections have been removed from under the kitchen, and re-set in their proper positions, all in complete cooking order, and finished within the appropriation made for that improvement. This building we have occupied for about one month, with the best results in the comfort of prisoners and the convenience, economy and safety of the institution.

We desire to call the attention of your Excellency especially to the financial showing of this prison, which has been unprecedented in its history. The fact that it has not only been self-supporting, but leaving a handsome balance in the treasury, is a matter worthy of hearty congratulation. We make but a simple statement, and refer you for fuller details to the elaborate report of the Warden, W. W. Higgins, Esq, which accompanies this report :

The amount of receipts for 1869 is.....	$47,719 32
Total amount of expenditures for 1869 is.....	45,293 46

Leaving a balance of receipts over expenditures for the year 1869.....	$1,425 86
To which may be added cash collected from delinquent contractors, and shown to be due in the last annual report of this prison	4,588 06

Leaving a balance in the treasury of the sum of.....	$6,013 92
--	------------

This favorable result has been reached by strict economy in all the departments of the prison; yet there has been no stint in feeding and clothing the men. They have been more suitably and warmly clad than ever before. The clothing and provisions are of the best quality, and having the cash to pay for our supplies, we have been able to purchase the best at the lowest market rates; and having, with the small number of convicts now confined in this prison, reached this favorable showing, we flatter ourselves that should the number of convicts increase to something like five hundred,—the present capacity of this prison since the new arrangements and new buildings have been completed,—the corresponding increase of surplus net earnings will be greatly in excess of the present showing.

The health of the institution during the past year has been remarkable, only four deaths having occurred, and several of those were caused by mortal diseases contracted before their incarceration in this prison. But few patients are in the hospital now, and most of the time none at all. For full particulars, we would refer you to the report of the Physician, Dr. George G. Bently.

It is with feelings of no ordinary pleasure that we call the attention of your Excellency to the Moral Department of this prison, which has been, for almost two years past, under the direction of the Rev. Aaron Wood.

The Legislature, at its last session, appropriated one thousand dollars to each of the prisons, North and South, for Library purposes. About three-fourths of the appropriation allotted to this prison has been expended by the Chaplain most judiciously. The library has been replenished with most useful reading matter, and a large supply of school books, Bibles and Testaments, in English and German, have been procured, and, as a consequence, we find marked improvement in the interest manifested to read on the part of the convicts, and the selections are well adapted to secure and maintain that interest. Under his direction a school has been established, with the best results. Many have learned to read, write and cypher, and will be better enabled to follow an honest calling, and better fitted for the pursuits of life than ever before. In addition to the regular chapel service, there has been organized a morning Sabbath school, which meets regularly at nine o'clock. It is well attended, and much interest has been manifested in a desire to learn. A number have expressed penitence for the past, and have formed good resolutions for the future. Some have professed to have found peace in believing, and are trying to live a reformed life, and by their conduct and deportment bespeak their sincerity. The accompanying report of the Chaplain we respectfully refer for your perusal.

The discipline of the prison has not only been well maintained, but is of a higher order than for the past years, insomuch that violation of rules requiring severe punishment seldom occurs. The men work with diligence and cheerfulness, and in this, and in all other departments, we believe that this prison will compare favorably with any institution in the land. By a provision of contracts with contractors, the convicts are allowed tasks, which enable them to make overwork, providing them with means to send remittances to their families and to purchase any little luxuries that may be suitable for them to have.

In conclusion, we beg to acknowledge our many obligations to our excellent Warden, W. W. Higgins, for the faithful and efficient manner in which he has conducted the affairs of this prison. To W. C. Smith, Clerk, Dr. George G. Bentley, Physician, Rev. Aaron Wood, Chaplain, Leroy Boyce, Deputy Warden, and to the employees of the prison generally for the faithful and dilligent discharge of their duties in their respective departments.

A. D. HAMRICK,
J. W. HART,
WILLIS BLANCH,
Commissioners.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE WARDEN, INDIANA STATE PRISON NORTH,
MICHIGAN CITY, Dec. 15, 1869.

To the Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN—In conformity with the law providing for the management of the State Prisons of this State, I submit my third annual report of the affairs of this institution for the year ending this day. In a former report I expressed the opinion that when the Prison was properly completed for the working of four hundred or more men, and the number of convicts had increased to that number, that this Institution ought to be made self-sustaining, and no longer a draft upon the Treasury of the State for its casual expenses. The opinion I then expressed has been fully realized during the year just past. Our present number of convicts is too limited to expect much of an annual profit, still I believe that we may safely calculate that, unless some misfortune overtakes us, we may confidently expect that the Institution will be found to be self-sustaining, and as the number of convicts increases from year to year there are reasonable hopes to expect that the profits will increase correspondingly.

I submit the following statement of the receipts and expenditures for the past year. A detailed statement of the expenditures will be appended to this report.

Received for labor.....	$42,183 63
Received from visitors.....	266 25
Received for use of engine.....	626 00
Received from sales, &c.....	3,428 57
Received from United States for keeping prisoners.....	1,214 87
Total amount of receipts during the year.....	$47,719 32
Total amount of expenditures during the year.....	46,293 46
Amount of receipts over expenditures.....	$1,425 86

In my last annual report I stated that there was due, from sundry delinquent contractors, a balance for labor (which balance has since been collected,) amounting to $4,588 06, which, with the unexpended balance of this year, amounts to $6,013 92, it being cash on hand. At this time there are no debts or claims of any kind outstanding against the institution.

On the 15th day of December last (the date of my last report) there were in the prison, 318 convicts; received from the Courts during the year, 146; escapes recaptured, 1; total, 465.

Discharged by expirations of sentence	91
Discharged by pardon of President of United States.....	1
Discharged by pardon of Governor.....	21
Discharged by commutation of sentence to House of Refuge	5
Died	4
Sent to Insane Hospital.....	1

Herewith you will find a list of contracts under which the convicts are now at work:

Jones, Chapin & Co., 50 men at 50 cents per day. Contract dated July 10, 1867, for five years, at cooperage. Contract expires July 10, 1872.

John Cross, 50 men at 50 cents per day. Contract dated January 1, 1868, for five years; manufacturing saddletrees, harness and saddlery hardware. Contract expires January 1, 1873.

Jones, Chapin & Co., 50 men at 50 cents per day. Dated April 1, 1868, for five years, at cooperage. Contract expires April 1, 1873.

Jones, Chapin & Co., 50 men at 50 cents per day. Contract dated May 12, 1868, for five years, at cooperage and agricultural implements. Contract expires May 12, 1873.

Ford & Johnson, 100 men at 50 cents per day. Contract commences November 1, 1868, for five years; manufacturing chairs and furniture. Contract expires November 1, 1873.

Hall & Cross, 25 men at 52 cents per day. Contract commences August 3, 1869, for manufacturing of saddletrees, harness, saddlery hardware and wagon wood-work. Contract expires August 3, 1874.

The last General Assembly appropriated the sum of $4,000 for the erection of a building in which to re-locate the boilers and engine used for the heating of the cell house and the other buildings, the cooking, and in the pumping of water. Accordingly a good and substantial brick building has been erected, 35 by 50 feet on the ground, one story of 14 feet in height, with a stone floor, and with a brick stack, 60 feet in height; the boilers and engine used in the new building, the steam and water pipes so altered and arranged as to answer admirably the purpose for which they were intended, and it affords me much pleasure to say that the whole improvement has been made for a sum within the amount of the appropriation.

It is a matter of congratulation that I am enabled to report that the conduct of the prisoners for the last year has been generally good. Violations of the rules have been much less frequent than formerly. A general disposition has been manifested on the part of the men to perform their work cheerfully and faithfully, and thereby give satisfaction to the contractors and the Prison officers. So far as I have been able to learn, I am satisfied that the discipline of this Prison will compare favorably with any like institution in the West.

Owing to our healthy location, well-ventilated cells and shops, the uniform cleanliness required of the men, and the rigid enforcement of general sanitary regulations, we have passed another year with comparatively little sickness, being entirely exempt from any serious malady or disease.

To the Deputy Warden, Mr. Royce, and to the Clerk, Mr. W. C. Smith, and the other officers of the Institution, I am under many obligations for their efficient services in their respective departments.

W. W. HIGGINS, Warden.

REPORT OF PHYSICIAN.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT, INDIANA STATE PRISON NORTH,
MICHIGAN CITY, December 15, 1869.

To the Honorable Board of Control:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith submit for your consideration the Eleventh Annual Report of the Sanitary condition of the Northern Indiana State Prison, for the year ending December 15, 1869.

On examining my records for the past five years, I find the health of the convicts compare favorably with the best regulated and most healthy prisons in the United States, as far at least as I have been able to obtain reports.

The mortuary list is remarkably small, averaging two for each year. The number of convicts has been greater than ever before, yet in the aggregate they have enjoyed very good health.

Many convicts are received with enfeebled constitutions, and diseases contracted by prior dissipation and excesses; and such diseases are very hard to eradicate from the system, having become chronic; but I have no doubt but such persons have their lives prolonged by their incarceration and enforced regularity in their habits, the excellent dietary arrangements, industrial occupations, and the comfortable quarters which this prison affords.

There has been about the usual proportion of disease of the digestive organs, and of a malarial type, several cases of phagedenic erysipelas, four or five cases of typhoid fever, and three or four cases of typhoid pneumonia.

I have to report four deaths during the year. Wesley Weaver died, February 21, of inflammation of the stomach and bowels;

Elisha C. Davis died of inflammation of the brain, March 13; Presley George died of typhoid pneumonia on the 13th of November; John Buckingham died of acute laryngitis, November 25.

I think it unnecessary to make a detailed statement, or tabular list of diseases treated, or the number of prescriptions dispensed, as the majority was for slight indispositions, as also a considerable number for wounds and injuries received from tools and machinery while in the shops at work.

We have at this time but three in hospital, two receiving treatment and one convalescent.

There are, however, four or five cripples in the cell-house under treatment part of the time. Some of them are engaged in light work most of the time.

I desire to say that both officers and guards have been ever ready to render me all necessary aid in my department, for the comfort and welfare of the convicts when under my care.

No pains have been spared to secure good ventilation in the cells, and the most scrupulous cleanliness in both person and clothing.

The general diet of the convicts is nutritious, and of sufficient variety to keep the prisoners healthy.

I am pleased to be able to state that I have under my control every convenience and appliance I desire in my department, for the treatment and comfort of the convicts when in my care.

To the Hospital Steward I am greatly indebted for the successful management of the sick. He has been always on hand, both day and night, and if need be, by the timely administration of suitable remedies, frequently arrests diseases in the incipient stage, which would otherwise result seriously if neglected.

The duty of hospital steward combines both the duties of guard and steward, and there should, if possible, be an increase of salary to correspond with the duties of both stations.

With such efficient aid, my duties have been pleasant and successful.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE J. BENTLEY,

Physician.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

MICHIGAN CITY, December 15, 1869.

To the Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN—In this my Second Annual Report, I respectfully call your attention first to the “ Educational Department.”

During the past year about fifty of the younger men of the convicts have been taken to the chapel one hour on each Sunday, and have so improved in reading that most of them are now placed in classes reading in the Testament, as a Sabbath-school, which is now held at 9 o'clock, A. M., every Sunday.

Those who cannot read are doing well in the primer, and may soon be advanced to reading classes. The assistance of Messrs. Smith, Ford, and Miller, in the Sunday morning school, is proof of the magnetic power of personal contact for elevating human nature, not only teaching to read, but to sing and to pray and trust.

Many have, with their own funds, purchased copy-books and slates, and are practicing the art of writing in their cells.

Arithmetics and geographies have been furnished to all who would receive them, and public and private instruction given on all these subjects.

These are the “ arts ” required by law to be taught to all whom the Warden may send (by the Moral Instructor), of which I informed you in my last year's report that ‘ it could not be done without elementary books.’

The General Assembly having granted one thousand dollars for the purchase of books, and placed the responsibility of selecting and purchasing the same on the Chaplain, I herewith submit a statement of the amount drawn from the treasury, and the number and character of volumes purchased, and prices paid.

As the rules contemplate a religious as well as educational work, I ask permission to report that all the convicts are taken to the chapel on every Sunday at 11½ o'clock, A. M., unless specially excused. One hour only is allowed for public service, consisting of singing, prayer, reading Scripture lessons, and lecture or sermon.

I have, however, extended a pastoral work beyond this "sacred hour," not only to the sick in the hospital, but spend the afternoon in visiting the cells and giving "personal instruction" to those who seek to learn.

While I speak as a man on the educational and financial part of my work, I must be permitted to speak as a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ, in the report on religion.

I have baptized three on profession of their faith, two more are catechumens for the same ordinance. Eight profess to be reclaimed from their backslidings, and four profess to have received the witness of pardon during the past six months.

What I have done for them I wait the judgment to decide, but what this work has done for me—I know now that its responsibilities have driven me to the Master. "All my springs are in Him," and His love has been greatly increased in my heart, as it has been enlarged by my "travail of soul" for the salvation of all who are in bondage to sin.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To His Excellency, Conrad Baker,

Governor of the State of Indiana:

The Commissioners of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, have the honor to submit to your Excellency the twenty-first Annual Report of that Institution.

During the past year the Hospital has been under the charge of Dr. Orpheus Everts, a physician well-known throughout the State, for his skill, urbanity, kindly disposition and executive ability.

The duties of the Superintendent, always onerous, were much augmented this year by the prosecution of important additions, improvements and changes in and about the building, as provided for by the last Legislature. Dr. Everts' initiatory year, we are happy to state has been a satisfactory one; he having been found fully adequate for the difficult position to which we elected him.

The north wing is now completed. Five of its wards have been furnished, and are now filled with patients. The remaining three wards will soon be furnished; and it is more than probable that the increased accommodations thus afforded will be required by applicants before the first of January next.

The centre building is now heated by steam.

Rapid progress is being made in the introduction of gas for lighting the entire Hospital.

New boilers adequate to heat all of the apartments have been placed in position.

Water, one of the most vital wants of an Insane Hospital, has thus far with us, been a great and pressing necessity, our only supply having been from wells. Hereafter, we trust, an abundant supply will be obtained from Eagle Creek by means of Holly engines and pumps, now in course of erection in the engine house. If this new apparatus fully answers the purpose it is guaranteed to meet, it will not only furnish all the water needed for ordinary contingencies, but we shall also, be provided with an ample and highly desirable fire protection; it being claimed that there will be sufficient propelling force in the pumps, at all times to throw four large streams of water over the highest portions of the buildings.

Through the instrumentality of the Hospital, under Divine Providence, during the past year one hundred and twenty-four patients have been restored to reason, and returned to the enjoyments of their homes. Many others have been improved both physically and mentally, and all were made as comfortable and happy as could be hoped for in persons of their conditions. The Hospital has been unusually free from diseases incident to the season, and the ratio of mortality materially less than that of last year.

For an exhibit of the finances of the Hospital, and the detail of its management, we would refer you to the Superintendent's report and appended tabular statements.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

P. H. JAMESON, President.

L. HUMPHREYS, }
J. H. WOODBURN. } Commissioners.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners,

Indiana Hospital for the Insane :

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit the following report of the conduct of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, for the year ending October 31st, 1869.

There were remaining in Hospital at the beginning of the year, according to the report of my immediate predecessor, (Dr. Wilson Lockhart,) 291 patients.

There have been admitted during the year 314 patients.

There were under treatment during the year, an aggregate of 605 patients, making a larger aggregate and a larger daily average, than has been reported for any previous year.

Of these patients 218 were discharged under the following circumstances :

Restored, 124. Improved, 14. Unimproved 48. Died 32. Leaving in Hospital October 31st, 1869, 387 patients. (See appendix.)

The disbursements for the year have been somewhat increased by an increase of numbers. and of force, general renovation and re-furnishing of the house, and such improvement in diet as was thought most judicious. (See financial statement appended.)

Much has been done within the year by way of improvement and repairs; the most important features of which are the introduction of steam heat into the centre building; gas for illuminating the entire Hospital, and water from Eagle Creek, by means of Holly engines and pumps, which promise not only to supply the house with abundance of water, but to afford the most perfect protection against fire, possible.

Six new boilers of great capacity, and approved construction, have been built, four of which are sufficient for ordinary domestic purposes, leaving two always in reserve in case of fire or other accident, a necessity made manifest by former experience.

The "north wing" so anxiously awaited by the friends of hundreds of unfortunate patients, believing that it was to furnish room for all the chronic and incurable insane of the State, applications for the admission of whom have been heretofore uniformly refused, has reached a state approximating completion, and has been furnished in a superior manner, and opened for the reception of inmates. It will be full by the first of January next, and only a moiety of those whom friends and guardians have expected to find refuge for in its ample walls, will have been accommodated.

There is but one remedy for this disappointment, and this need; and that is more Hospitals. Indiana is lamentably behind her sister States in this humane regard.

Donations have been received from the friends of patients cared for in the Hospital, and other persons, prompted by generous sympathy for the afflicted.

To the following persons the Hospital is especially indebted for favors received:

Dr. Hibbard, of Richmond, Indiana, for books and pamphlets.

J. T. Pierson, of New York City, for books, stereoscopic views and instruments, and colored lithographic pictures.

Miss Dorothy Dix, of New York, for sheet music.

Mr. S. Robinson, cash.....$150 00

Mr. W. J. Duvall, cash..... 200 00

Mr. G. Towle, cash..... 200 00

Mrs. Root, cash..... 156 00

This fund has been expended in ornamenting grounds, and various amusements for the patients.

The Hospital has received from the publishers the following periodicals, regularly. If every publisher in the State would find it agreeable to contribute one or more copies of his paper for the benefit of the unfortunate, he would undoubtedly find his reward. We need books, magazines, pamphlets, news-papers, and would respectfully solict contributions of the same from all willing sources.

Lancet	Cincinnati.
Nothing new in the way of treatment has been adopted.

Amusements have been limited for want of appliances, to dancing and private theatricals, in which patients have taken leading parts.

Chapel services have been conducted every Sabbath by the Superintendent, with a large average attendance.

In closing this, my first annual report, I beg leave to tender to you, Gentlemen of the Board, my thanks, springing from a lively sense of obligation, for your cordial support and liberal counsel in all matters of interest pertaining to the Hospital; and also to express my appreciation of the valuable services of Dr. W. W. Hester, for many years the first assistant physician: and the cheerful, willing and intelligent coöperation of Dr. Elstun and Mr. C. S. Test, both new officers, in everything pertaining to the welfare of the Insane, and the interest of the Institution, over which, under Divine Providence, I have been placed by your generous partiality.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ORPHEUS EVERTS, Superintendent.

INDIANA

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF CONTROL

AND

SUPERINTENDENT.

MADE JANUARY 1, 1870, TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:

ALEXANDER H. CONNER, STATE PRINTER.

1869.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Governor of the State of Indiana :

The Board of Control of the House of Refuge for Juvenile Offenders, respectfully submit their Third Annual Report.

At the time of our last Annual Report there were 108 boys in the institution ; since then 28 have been admitted, and 3 who had escaped were reclaimed, making 139 who have been in the institution during the year. Of these, 31 have been discharged, leaving at present in the institution 118.

Of the boys discharged, one was transferred to the Insane Asylum, one was indentured to a respectable farmer, and suitable places were found for 19.

Some of these were well advanced in years, and all (except the insane one) had given evidence of sufficient reformation to lead us to think they would make useful citizens.

In taking boys so old as many of those who are committed under our law, it requires much patient labor to effect their reformation and break off their long-formed evil habits, and we have felt that there was great risk in their returning to former modes of life after being discharged, but, thus far, we are not aware of any who have done so, and nearly all have settled down to industrious habits and useful pursuits.

The Superintendent keeps up a correspondence with those discharged, as far as practicable, as will more fully appear in his Report.

Notwithstanding the absence of walls and outward restraints, but few boys have escaped since the institution was opened, and all of these have been brought back, except one who was regularly discharged.

The health of the inmates has been good the past year; no serious sickness has prevailed, and no deaths have occurred.

The receipts and expenditures of the institution, for the past year, have been as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Cash on hand January 1, 1869	$20 86
Received from State Treasury.....	57,551 89
Received for support of inmates.....	710 00
Received for subscription to location of Institution..	219 16

EXPENDITURES.

For Furnishing Houses.....	2,444 83
Cash on hand January 1, 1870.....	5,942 79
Total.....	$58,957 31

By the foregoing it will appear that the cost of the food purchased for the whole family, including officers, employes and boys, does not exceed $50 each for the year.

The clothing of the boys has cost about $30 each. We believe these prices will compare favorably with those of any similar institution in this country.

In a new institution there is a constant demand for additional agricultural implements, machinist tools, and material for permanent improvements.

The labor of the boys has been employed on the farm, in the necessary improvements about the premises, in the tailor and shoe-shop, and in the domestic work of the Institution.

We have recently opened a shop for the manufacture of cane-seat chair bottoms, and now employ about 28 of the boys at this work. Many of them are too young to be of much service elsewhere.

The estimated total value of the products of the farm the past year is $3,583 81.

The Superintendent and Matron have continued to discharge their arduous and responsible duties to our entire satisfaction, and we feel that to their good judgment, untiring application, and successful management, the prosperity of the Institution is in a great measure due.

We respectfully refer to the Superintendent's Report, herewith submitted, for further details.

The Legislature, at its last session, appropriated $50,000 "for the purpose of erecting additional buildings, and furnishing the same, and other improvements for the House of Refuge."

Under this provision, with your concurrence and advice, we let in July last (as soon as practicable after the passage of the law), a contract for one additional family building, which has recently been completed at an expense of $6,352 86, the furnishing costing the additional sum of about $1,500.

We also let, at the same time, a contract for the main building of the Institution, to be completed on the 1st of January, 1870, at a cost of $30,000; but the contractor has failed to complete the work in season, and the building is not yet fully inclosed.

This building will contain the offices and residence of the Superintendent, chapel, and dining-room for the boys, and other needful accommodations for such an Institution.

When completed, we shall be in much better condition to carry forward the work successfully, and to take the boys committed, many of whom we have had to decline receiving the past year for want of room.

We have also increased the size of the barn, erected a tool-house, and made sundry other much needed improvements.

We have also purchased a tract of land, containing about two acres, which is situated between the farm of the Institution and the Moresville turnpike, and which in the hands of other parties might have been a source of annoyance.

The object of the Institution, as specified in the law creating it, is to take charge of such children as are being brought up to an idle or immoral life, "or who have been guilty of conduct so incorrigible and vicious as to make it manifestly requisite that, from regard to their future welfare, and for the protection of society, they should be placed under such guardianship."

The citizens of Indiana have a right to ask, is the object being accomplished?

We believe we may safely and unhesitatingly answer in the affirmative. Perhaps no worse boys can be found than many of those that have been committed to the Institution.

The method of government and treatment adopted, has brought all of them into subjection for the time being, and we have confidence that most of them can be restored to society as useful members.

In some cases the moral character is so weak, that much will depend upon their surroundings after leaving the institution. No effort will be spared on our part to place them in favorable situations. Most of those who are in the Institution, we believe, will be radically reformed, and go out to fill a useful place in the community.

In pursuance of the first clause of section twenty of the act creating the Institution, we have, with the approval of the Governor, estimated and determined, as nearly as may be, the actual expense per annum of keeping and taking care of each infant committed to the Institution (not including the use of grounds and buildings,) to be $130.

It has afforded us much pleasure to mark the gradual development of the Institution, and we desire to acknowledge our gratitude to God for His blessing on the work.

HOUSE OF REFUGE, Plainfield, Indiana, Jan. 1, 1870.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners of the Indiana House of Refuge:

GENTLEMEN—The Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge respectfully submits the following report of the progress and condition of said Institution for the year ending December 31, 1869:

The past year has been one of constant, varied and anxious toil, but prosperity has crowned our labors. The noble work, so auspiciously begun last year, has been perseveringly carried forward, and the united and well-directed efforts of all the officers have had a telling effect in purifying and embellishing the hearts and minds of those for whose highest good we have labored. The boys that have been in the Institution for any considerable length of time have undergone a very desirable change in person, in mind, and in heart, and those who have recently come in are becoming brighter and more cheerful in looks, and more civil in deportment.

The Institution is no longer an experiment. The fears and prejudices at first entertained against it have been largely dispelled, and those who were most skeptical and indifferent in regard to its success and usefulness have become its warmest sympathizers and well-wishers.

It is cheering to know that the Institution is daily strengthening its hold upon the confidence of the people of the State, and there is reason to believe that when its object and workings are more fully known the number of its friends will be greatly augmented. Certainly that institution which has for its object the amelioration and promotion of the moral and intellectual condition of the wayward, neglected and wretched youth of the State, cannot help but call forth the highest commendation and approval that a just and philanthropical people can give. The good that the Institution has done and is still doing can not be fully known until the great day when all things shall be made public; but the future safety and well-being of the State demand that ample and adequate means for the instruction and training of the erring and unfortunate children should be extended to them all. For the omission fully to discharge this duty the security of the lives, property and happiness of the future citizens of the State will be endangered, and the certain liability of enormous expenditures for the maintenance of paupers and the punishment of criminals will be entailed. For every child the State properly educates and trains it receives in return an accession to its ranks of law-abiding citizens, which adds to its productive industry increased wealth, mental, moral and social worth, greatly exceeding, in a pecuniary point of view, the expenditures incurred. From the neglect to discharge this duty, in the early history of the State, the people have suffered much from the depredations of outlaws and vagabonds, the violence of criminals, the stupidity of brutal ignorance and moral depravity; and so long as children are permitted to grow up to manhood and womanhood with their minds shrouded with ignorance and superstition, wandering about in idleness, viciousness and lawlessness, so long may we continue to reap the bitter harvest of violence and crime, insecurity of person and property, and burdensome taxation. For as many children as are furnished with the means of physical, mental, moral and religious training early in life, so many are reclaimed from the future ranks of crime and pauperism, and are added to the industry, wealth and respectability of the State and for every dollar thus expended will be saved thousands in the future expenditures of the prison, the gallows, and the asylum. The State has done much in establishing this Institution, and no doubt but the results which it will accomplish will be remunerative and beneficial.

PLAT OF BUILDINGS.

The plat of the buildings, as they will appear when the plan you have adopted is carried out, will be, in figure, a homologous triangle, and all but the main building and family houses, commencing and ending the series, will front to the center of the figure. The buildings embraced within this plat are the main building, eight family houses, two workshops, hospital and reading room, and a bake shop and milk house. Of the number contemplated by this plan there are erected four family houses, one shop, the bake house and milk house. The main building, now in process of erection, has not approached as near completion as we had hoped and even had reason to expect. The delay in not being able to occupy this as soon as contemplated will somewhat interfere with our progress the coming year. We can not now reasonably expect, under the most favorable circumstances, to occupy this building before the first of March, but when it is completed there will be accommodations for two hundred boys.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUILDINGS.

The main building is constructed after the Italian mode of architecture, and will be sixty-four by one hundred and twenty-eight feet, external measurement, and is to be three stories high above the basement. The basement is to be divided into a laundry, lamp room, vegetable cellar and furnace room. On the first floor are the office, parlor, store-room, officers' and boys' dining rooms, and the kitchen. On the second floor are the Superintendent's and Matron's rooms, and seven bedrooms for officers. On the third floor are the chapel, library room, store-room, and four bedrooms for domestics.

The family houses are all duplicates of each other, and are thirty-eight by fifty-six feet, external measurement, and are two stories high above the basement. The basement is eight feet in the clear, and contains a furnace room, a store-room and a spacious wash room, which is also used for a play-room in stormy weather. The first floor contains two rooms for the House Father and his family, and a large school room and family sitting room for the boys, which is well warmed and ventilated, comfortably seated, and supplied with ample blackboard room. The second story contains the boys' dormitory, a small sleeping room for the Elder Brother, a clothes room, and night-closet for the boys.

The workshop is forty by eighty feet, and is two stories high above the basement. When the main building is occupied the shop building will contain the shoe shop, chair shop, tailor shop, carpenter shop, wood-house, and a general store-room.

The milk house and bake house are each twenty by thirty feet, one story high.

These buildings are all plain and substantial, and will serve the purpose designed by their erection.

NEW BUILDINGS.

During the year several buildings have been erected that add much to the convenience and efficiency of the Institution. A barn forty-two by one hundred feet, external measurement, was erected and completed in time to receive such of the products of the farm as would be consumed by the stock. A suitable garden house, sixteen by thirty-two, has also been erected and completed, and a hen house is now in process of erection and will be completed in a short time. The family house which Jehu Parsons contracted to construct, erect and complete on or before January 1, 1870, was finished by the tenth day of December, and in a few days thereafter was fitted up and is now occupied by a family of boys. The contractor has faithfully fulfilled the conditions of his contract and has erected a good, substantial building.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Some much needed improvements have been made about the buildings and premises, such as grading, making walks, building roads, etc. The grading is not yet completed, but there will be sufficient finished this winter to enable us to set out shade trees and shrubbery the coming spring. Though much work has been done the past year, the premises still look bare and somewhat uninviting. During the summer and fall, when the boys could be spared from the pressing farm work, we have employed them at making a gravel road leading from the buildings to the Mooresville pike. The completion of this road will render access to the Institution more easy as well as greatly improve the appearance of the premises. During the wet weather, in the spring and fall of the year, it has been very difficult, and sometimes impossible, to haul heavy loads over this part of the road, and we shall be much relieved in this respect, when it is completed. We expect to finish this road during the present winter. Other improvements of a minor character have been made.

ORCHARD AND FRUIT GARDEN.

The orchard has not been extended any during the year. Early in the spring the trees that had been killed the previous year by the borer, and those that died from the drouth, were removed and fresh ones planted in their places. The number removed were as follows: Two hundred and thirty-five apple trees, ninety-three cherry trees and thirteen standard pear trees. The vineyard has been extended by adding seven hundred and five plants. Three thousand four hundred strawberry plants were set out in the spring, nearly all of which have lived and bore a light crop. The orchard and fruit garden embrace the following numbers and variety of fruits, viz: Nine hundred and eighteen apple trees; two hundred and twenty cherry trees; two hundred and twenty standard and one hundred and twenty dwarf pear trees; three hundred and seventy-five currant bushes; five hundred raspberry bushes; three thousand four hundred strawberry plants and one thousand six hundred and forty-one grape vines. The above are composed of the varieties that flourish best in this climate. It is too early to expect to realize much fruit, but nearly all of the trees and vines look vigorous and healthy, and promise good results in the future.

PRODUCTS OF THE FARM AND GARDEN.

Good crops have been harvested, and with one slight exception all have been secured. We met with a small loss in sweet potatoes by the early frost. The full products of the farm, so far as we can ascertain, together with their estimated value, are given in the following table:

20 tons of hay, at $10	$200 00
426 dozen sheaves of oats, at 50c.....	213 00
40 bushels of beans, at $2.....	80 00
1,000 bushels of corn, at 60c.....	600 00
375 gallons of sorghum, at 70c.....	262 50
8,500 pounds of pork, at 14c.....	1,190 00
350 pounds of lard, at 20c.....	70 00
740 pounds of butter.....	190 00
12 calves, at $15.....	180 00
175 bushels of wheat, at $1.10.....	192 50
1,000 bushels of potatoes, at 40c.....	400 00
80 dozen of brooms, at $3.....	240 00
Vegetables furnished during summer and fall.....	701 66
Vegetables on hand for winter use.....	569 75
Garden seeds on hand.....	75 40
Total.....	<hr/> $5,164 81

We think we shall be able to keep the stock through the winter with what feed we have on hand. But little of the corn raised this year has been used, as we had nearly enough remaining from last year to keep the stock and fatten the hogs. The hogs were not killed until about the twentieth of December and but little of the meat and lard have been used. All the brooms are still on hand and a large quantity of the sorghum and nearly all of the pickles are on hand for winter use. Every reasonable effort to increase the products of the farm and to develop its entire resources has been put forth. Due care has been exercised to save all the manure and to gather and compost everything that would make manure. There is now on hand a compost heap containing about two hundred wagon loads of manure, to spread upon the garden the coming spring. About one hundred wagon loads of manure have been bought in the village, and hauled out and spread on the garden and "truck patches."

Nearly twelve acres of the bottom land have been plowed and subsoiled during the fall and we design to continue this work until the whole farm shall have been subsoiled. When once the farm is in a good state of cultivation, its products will be greatly increased and the expense of living much reduced.

LIVE STOCK.

The following table is an exhibit of the number and value of the live stock:

13 milk cows, at $70.....	$910 00
1 bull (thorough-bred Durham).....	200 00
4 two-year old heifers, at $40.....	160 00
1 two-year old steer, at $40.....	40 00
12 spring calves, at $15.....	180 00
50 head of hogs, at $6.....	300 00
30 head of sheep, at $4.....	120 00
7 head of horses, at $200.....	1,400 00
Total.....	$3,310 00

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

The farm is well supplied with agricultural implements. It will not be necessary to purchase many more, except it be a few of the smaller kind for the use of the garden, and such as may be necessary to assist at the grading. The amount expended for tools since the organization of the Institution is $1,980 19.

SHOPS.

The subject of mechanical trades is one to which we have given much thought. The pecuniary interests of the Institution, as well as the future welfare of the boys, have seemed to urge the extension of shop labor. There are but few trades that can be profitably followed in this kind of Institutions that will be of any practical benefit to a boy when discharged. The paramount object in teaching boys trades should be to place in their hands the means of a respectable livelihood when they are discharged. Next to this should be to give them habits of industry. The trades carried on in the different reformatory and industrial schools throughout the land are very much the same. The result of their labors supplies and monopolizes the market for that kind of products, and thus it is that boys going out with no other means of support than what they find in broom-making, caning chairs, and making brushes, experience so much difficulty in finding employment. We are experimenting now in cane seating chairs. The boys employed at this work are of the smaller class, ranging in age from six to fourteen years. This class of boys can not be very profitably employed on the farm at any season of the year, but their work in this department will, we think, when they are well learned, be profitable. They can be kept at this employment until they become old enough to be placed at a trade more substantial. Thus far it has not been difficult to find profitable employment on the farm for the large boys throughout the year. The boys in the shoe shop range in age from fifteen to twenty years. We intend to teach all the boys in this department the full trade. Nearly every boy now in this shop can make a pair of shoes in a day, and some can do more. One boy that came to the Institution in January, 1868, without any previous knowledge of the trade, has since made suitable proficiency to enable him to take the charge of the shop. He has done all the cutting for Institution since the 1st of September, and manages the boys very satisfactorily. The tailor shop has been successfully managed, and the boys are furnished with an abundance of good warm clothing, which is always kept clean and in good repair. We are not situated so as to give the boys that work in the tailor shop a full knowledge of tailoring, although the most of them learn to cut, to operate well on the machine, and handle the needle well, which will be of considerable assistance to them if they wish to learn the trade after they are discharged. One boy knits on a machine all the socks the boys use throughout the year.

OFFICERS.

Frequent changes among the subordinate officers have been necessary. Some have resigned to give their attention to other pursuits, and others have resigned because they had no taste or fitness for the work. The present officers, when once thoroughly educated to the work, will, we think, be quite efficient. They are all men of high moral character, and only need experience to render them well qualified. They are devoted to the interests of the Institution, and work harmoniously together, which can not help but produce the best of results. It is of the utmost importance that all of the officers and employes be governed by a singleness of purpose, and that all work zealously for the promotion of the highest good of all. That concert of purpose and harmony of effort might be secured, we have held fortnightly officers' meetings, and have given such instructions as we thought necessary to produce it. Much good has come out of these meetings, and we intend to continue them. It has been exceedingly difficult to engage the services of suitable female assistants for each division of the domestic department. The most difficult of all has been to find a suitable person to take charge of the culinary department. While it is not expected to obtain the services of a person for this department that will assist much in the reformatory work of the Institution, it is at least hoped that such a person will be employed as will not counteract any of the good results produced by the labors of the officers. The full number of officers and employes at present are as follows: One Superintendent and Matron, Assistant Superintendent, three House Fathers, two Elder Brothers, one Gardener, one Carpenter, one man in charge of teams, one Stocktender and Butcher, one Tailor Shop Mistress, one Bake House Mistress, one Dining Room Mistress, one Laundress, one Cook, one Chambermaid.

So far as we have had any opportunity to test the fitness of these persons, we think them well adapted to their places. The shoe shop is presided over by one of the boys, who is quite an efficient manager. The chair shop is conducted by one of our former boys, who was discharged last May. After he had been absent from the Institution a few months he returned, asking for employment, saying that the Institution was most like home to him of any place on earth, and that he greatly preferred to remain here than anywhere else. We took him in, and assigned him to duty in charge of the chair shop during the day, and to assist in the management of a family morning and evening. He is a young man of promise, is loyal to his position, and possesses the full confidence and esteem of the boys. The position of night watchman is filled by a boy that was transferred from the penitentiary last September. Though he has been with us but a short time he evinces a disposition to lead a better life, and his conduct convinces us that he is sincere in his professions. So far as we are convinced that it will do we detail the boys to fill responsible places, which greatly lessens the expense of the Institution, and has much to do in developing the self respect of the boys so detailed, and has a salutary effect upon the other boys.

At your July session you created the office of Assistant Superintendent, and the Superintendent was directed to select and appoint a suitable person to fill the place. The position was tendered C. W. Ainsworth, Principal of the Iowa State Reform Schools, who signified his acceptance, and entered at once upon the discharge of his duties. His experience is varied and extensive, and he proves himself to be admirably adapted to the work.

EXPENSES.

The principal outlay to carry on the Institution is for flour, groceries, and boys' clothing. At present we raise all the vegetables we consume during the year, and we can fatten nearly all our own meat. We have been experimenting in butchering for the past three months, and thus far have found the results very satisfactory. The expenses have been kept down somewhat by using boys to fill officers' places when it would answer. The place of night watchman has been filled the entire year by two of the boys, one large and one small. The shoe shop has also been conducted by one of the boys since September 1st, thus saving the employment of a man, that would cost at least seventy-five dollars per month. The most rigid economy has been exercised in every department of the Institution, and great care has been taken to prevent waste and breakage. The account, contingent expenses, seems large at first sight, but when we analyze it, and see the parts of which it is composed, its appearance is somewhat modified. In this account are embraced the office expenses, the cost of medicine and medical attendance, freights and express charges, blacksmithing, the expense of pursuing and returning fugitives, tolls, postage stamps and revenue stamps, telegraphy, and sundry items of a minor character.

BOYS' CLOTHING.

Owing to the limited amount of clothing the boys were forced to do with last year, necessitated a large outlay this year. For spring and summer each boy is furnished with two suits of clothes, as follows: for every day, two pairs of blue denim pants, two straw or palm-leaf hats, and for Sundays and holidays a brown linen jacket and pants. The suits for fall and winter are as follows: for every day, sky-blue cassimere pants and blouse, and dark blue felt cap: for Sunday, dark blue jacket, blue jeans pants. Hickory or check shirt is worn the year round. As soon as cold weather begins in the fall each boy is furnished with two pairs of stout coarse shoes and two pairs of thick woolen socks; each pair is worn every alternate week, and when one pair is being worn the other is being cleaned and repaired for the next week. By this course the shoes and socks are kept in good repair all the time.

LIBRARY.

But few additions have been made to the library during the year. It now contains about two hundred volumes. The books are well adapted to the tastes, mental capacity and requirements of the boys; they are elevating and refining, everything of an exciting and inflammatory character being excluded. The boys have access to the books as often as is necessary, and they read them with intense interest. The most of the larger boys have read the library nearly through, and more books will soon be needed.

SCHOOLS.

The boys have made commendable progress in their studies. The educational advantages of this year are much superior to last. The schools are graded, and we have a more efficient corps of teachers, and the boys are wakened up to a livelier interest in their books. The majority of the boys, on entering the institution, are ignorant and illiterate, and have no taste for books, but they generally soon acquire a taste for them, and when once interested, those characteristics that gave them prominence in their criminal career help them to learn rapidly. Many of the boys that came here without any knowledge of even the alphabet, can now read, write and cipher quite well; all the boys that have been discharged can read and cipher sufficiently well to be able to transact the ordinary business of common life. We desire to make the schools as efficient as possible, for there seems to be a uniform development of the heart as the work of cultivating the mind progresses.

ESCAPES.

Efforts at escape have been very few, and the attempts have been confined principally to the new boys. Every boy that has attempted to leave us without proceeding according to law, has been apprehended and returned. We do not always secure the boys immediately after they escape, but we are quite certain to apprehend them some time. The three boys that we reported escaped last year, have been apprehended and brought back. Of our almost two years of existence as an Institution, we can chronicle the fact that there has not been a successful escape. Escapes are usually the result of a want of vigilance on the part of the officers. Boys are not likely to escape from a job; they usually prove loyal to our confidence and trust.

DISCHARGED BOYS.

The time elapsing since we began to discharge boys, has been too short to fully test the permanency of their reformation. The boys cannot go out too strongly fortified. Society is thoroughly impregnated with sin and its dreadful consequences, and the temptations and pitfalls with which the boys are to be surrounded are numerous and powerful. Not unfrequently are the severest and most insurmountable combatants and obstacles met on the threshold of their own doors. We have tried to induce the boys not to return to their homes. They sometimes do remain away for a time, but they eventually find their way back to their homes, where the same causes that once produced their ruin still exist. Under these circumstances we ought not to expect much; however we are not unfrequently deceived by the boys that go out. Our expectations are sometimes met by contrary results. We desire and intend to discharge only truly reformed boys, and we believe that our system of treatment and of testing the sincerity of their professions is so complete, that it is difficult for us to be deceived. We feel positively certain that every boy that grades out is reformed when he leaves the Institution. But we cannot always tell whether that reformation will be permanent or not. There is much depending on the circumstances by which they are surrounded. We cannot reasonably expect them to keep themselves above the common moral level of the society into which they are thrown.

Every reasonable effort has been made to secure Christian homes for them in localities where the morals are good and where they are not acquainted. When they are allowed to return to the neighborhoods from which they were sent, they will in a great measure be thrown among their former associates and partners in crime, and will be quite certain to relapse into their former habits. The majority of the boys thus far discharged are well advanced in years. When they came to the Institution they were above the maximum age fixed by law, and gained admission by misrepresenting their ages to the courts. The most of them had led criminal lives for many years, and on account of their advanced age and hardened criminal condition, were hopeless subjects upon which to work. I am satisfied that many of the boys sent us are too old to be successfully treated under this system. Some, above their majority, have been sent us for seventeen, and others, nineteen and twenty, have been sent for sixteen. In this advanced age, boys of eighteen years and upwards, 'till they reach their majority, are generally fully developed, opinionated, and settled in their habits, and the good resulting from the labor expended upon them, is not generally remunerative. Though all the boys discharged during the year have given satisfactory evidence of true reform, and of a determination to lead better lives, yet we have had many fears that they would not be able to stand the pressure of temptation that may surround them. Many of the boys are pliant and yielding in disposition, making suitable subjects for the older, more wily and seductive villains to prey upon.

We keep up a regular correspondence with the boys, and, so far, they send us encouraging reports. It has not come to our knowledge that any of the boys discharged as reformed have fallen. One boy who was transferred from the penitentiary to this Institution, brought with him the chronic habit of self-abuse. This he had carried to such an extent as to seriously impair his mind and health. It had become a disease with him, and had advanced to such a stage as to prevent us from giving any relief. We secured his admission to the hospital for the insane, where he underwent a course of treatment. When the officers of that institution thought him ready for dismissal, the Board, after due consideration and reflection, decided that in view of his impaired mind and advanced age, it would be best to discharge him, and an order was made in accordance with the above decision. He went forth into the world, soon to be overtaken by misfortune. Three months of a trifling and profligate life had scarcely elapsed when he was arrested for grand larceny, and lodged in jail. He pleadingly asks to be returned to the Institution, that he may have another opportunity to reform. He has received all the benefits that the Institution can give, and we think it would not be wise to permit him to return.

Nearly all the boys quit the Institution with regrets. Many of them recognize it as being the only true home they have ever known. Many of their letters to us indicate that they are carrying into daily practice the wholesome instructions they received here. We hope and do earnestly request that the good people residing in the communities where our boys may attempt to seek homes will receive them cordially, and treat them kindly, thus assisting in strengthening and completing the work already commenced. Some of the boys have felt that society was unfriendly to them, and it has been with some reluctance that they have returned to their homes. Frequently they labor under the impression that if they should return to their homes they may be arrested for offences previously committed. This is an unfavorable state of feeling to go out under, and it interferes very much with a boy's success in life. I respectfully call your attention to the letters received from discharged boys which are hereto appended.

The above publications are important auxiliaries in the education of the boys, and we hope their publishers will have the goodness to continue to furnish them, and thus aid us in rescuing these tender waifs from a life of misery and moral wretchedness.

BRASS BAND.

The instruments purchased for the band have been received and a competent teacher secured, and a course of instruction begun, and the teacher informs us that the boys learn as rapidly as any class he has ever instructed. We expect that when the boys are capable of playing well the monotony of the Institution will be pleasantly and cheerfully broken. There is so much sameness connected with the working of an institution of this kind that it becomes, somewhat, a tread-mill, and a good band will greatly divert the attention of the inmates, render the institution more attractive, and greatly promote its cheerfulness.

SINGING.

The boys are regularly exercised in singing twice a week. They take much interest in this, and many of the boys have become sweet singers. These exercises are conducted by one of the officers, who takes pleasure in instructing the boys how to sing. These exercises are always accompanied with music on the organ by one of the inmates, who is an excellent performer. Vocal and instrumental music has a powerful influence in softening the heart, subduing the passions, and in elevating and refining their natures.

BADGE CHANGE.

Badges have been changed regularly once in each month. The boys always look forward to badge change night with much interest. This night is generally a very profitable time. After the business of the evening is over, time is allowed the boys to speak, to declare their intentions, to express their resolutions, and to give advice to their associates. The time is generally well occupied—the most of the boys participating.

SYSTEM OF REPORTS.

Our former system of reports for the boys did not fully meet the wants of the Institution; hence we changed it, and adopted the following plan, substantially: For every day that a boy's conduct is good he receives five credit marks, and if his conduct is not good he may receive demerit marks or other punishments. It will be seen that in a month of thirty days a boy, doing as well as it is possible for one to do, can not receive more than one hundred and fifty marks. All the boys on badges between eight and four, both inclusive, are required to get sixty per cent. of the one hundred and fifty, viz: ninety, to be entitled to a promotion. All between the four badge and third grade are required to get seventy per cent., or one hundred and five. All between the third and first grades must get eighty per cent., or one hundred and twenty. To be entitled to the Honor ninety per cent., or one hundred and thirty-five must be gotten, and to hold the Honor the full one hundred and fifty must be gained. As a punishment a boy may be marked nothing. Not any of the boys like to be marked nothing. This graded system thus far has worked most admirably, and the boys greatly prefer it to the former system.

LETTERS TO THEIR FRIENDS.

The boys have been allowed to write monthly to their friends at the expense of the Institution, and in cases of emergency as often as has seemed to be necessary. When they furnish their own material and stamps they are allowed to write once a week. The only money the boys have is furnished them by their friends, which is cheerfully given to enable them to write often. It is pleasing to see these boys, that previously disregarded their homes and set at defiance the loving admonitions of their parents, how much they think of homes and how anxious they are to hear from them now. Parents and friends could aid us much in winning their children back to virtue if they would frequently write the boys letters of cheer and consolation. The boys generally express themselves freely in their letters, and frequently allude to their former lives of waywardness and profligacy with penitence and regret.

DELINQUENT COUNTIES.

Inasmuch as the Institution was established by the State, and is by the State conducted, it is desirable that every county should be represented in the Institution, and thus enjoy some of the benefits arising from the enterprise which they so liberally contribute to support. The benefits arising from the Institution should be distributed as largely as possible over the State, and the most effectual means of doing it is by each county taking an interest in having her unfortunate children committed to its guardianship. There are estrays and floating boys in every county that are destined ere long to have their names recorded in the criminal list, which, if timely arrested and sent to this Institution, may be saved to a life of usefulness and decency. The first six months of the year the Institution was crowded to the extent of its capacity, and many fit subjects for its care and training were refused for want of space and accommodations. Now that there is room, we hope that the county officials will interest themselves in sending to the Institution such of the unfortunate children as are fit subjects.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Have been matters that have occupied our highest and most serious attention. Believing that true reformation and a change of heart are synonymous — one and the same thing — we have directed our efforts to secure this, and have found that much attention should be given to this kind of instruction. We have a very interesting Sabbath-school. The boys take much interest in committing the lessons assigned them, and give close attention to the expositions of the same. All the boys, including the smallest, commit verses from the Scriptures freely and cheerfully. The number of verses recited on the Sabbath varies usually from fifteen hundred to twenty-five hundred. Seven verses are assigned as the regular lesson, which is explained to the boys after they have recited them, but more may be committed if the boys choose to learn them. The boys are always interrogated on the lesson, and many of them give correct answers and interpretation to the same. We have had religious services regularly every Sabbath afternoon, performed either by the Superintendent or by some of the clergymen from the different denominations in the village, or by itinerant ministers. Subjects containing the highest moral and religious interest have been selected, and the marked attention which the boys have paid to the preaching of the divine truth shows plainly that it was well received. All rigid discussions have been avoided, and the truth has been laid before them simplified by illustrations from the Bible and every-day life. We are not sectarian or doctrinal in our teachings, but aim to teach the simple truths of the Bible. On Sabbath evenings the boys convene for educational, moral or religious instruction from the Superintendent or some one of the officers. Religious exercises are held daily, morning and evening, in the families and in the dining room before each meal. Each family is instructed every evening through the week by the House Father or Elder Brother. These instructions usually consist of moral review or useful reading by one of the officers, the studying of the Scriptures, or an exercise in some of the branches taught in the school. Prayer meetings are held once a week in each of the families, the House Father of each family presiding. These meetings are usually well attended, and many of the boys evince considerable religious interest. These meetings are the key-stone to the reformatory work of the Institution. Moral and religious instruction has not only been held at the times mentioned above, but we have tried to instruct by our every word and act, believing that practical, exemplary instruction is the most powerful and persuasive. We do not always see the immediate good resulting from our teaching that we would desire, but we take encouragement from the belief that we are "casting bread upon the waters."

MISCELLANEOUS.

The experience of the past year has greatly strengthened our confidence in our improved system of treatment for juvenile delinquents. Visits to other reformatory institutions have confirmed us in the belief that we have made some improvements in the management of youthful criminals, that will have a healthful bearing upon the reformatory work generally. We have now been in operation nearly two years, and have received the most hardened and desperate of juvenile offenders, which have been successfully managed without resorting to corporal chastisement. The rod has not, in a single instance, been called into use, and the best of order has prevailed and good results have been accomplished. Good health has prevailed throughout the year, there being but few severe cases of sickness.

I respectfully call your attention to the report of the Practicing Physician, hereto appended. Many minor cases of sickness and several casualties have occurred, but they have been successfully treated by the Matron.

If the good people in different parts of the State would interest themselves in looking after those who are to become subjects of our care, and see that they are arrested and committed to the institution when they begin their first excursions out into criminal life, the probabilities of reclaiming them would be greatly increased and the task of doing it would be rendered more easy and pleasant.

The holidays have all been appropriately observed and well enjoyed by the boys. The celebrations have been about the same as are customary among the people generally. Elevating and refining amusements have been kept up through the whole year, which have had the double effect of rendering the boys satisfied and of producing a favorable growth of the domestic virtues. The want of the necessary amusements and attractions increases the demand for excitement, which is usually met and served by restiveness and efforts at mischief.

In closing this report, permit me to say that, taking encouragement from the past results, and being stimulated by the prospects for the future, we feel induced to labor on until we shall build up an Institution here that will be a living monument to the charity and benevolence of the State and a blessing to the wayward and unfortunate children of our beloved commonwealth. Our progress thus far has been steady, uniform and substantial, and we hope that our labors in the future, like those of the past, may be congenial and successful. Our relations thus far have been friendly and amicable, and our harmony and unity of spirit have been fruitful in carrying happiness, contentment and general prosperity to those whose best interests we have studied.

Acknowledging with profound gratitude the guidance and protection of our Divine Father, and thanking you, gentlemen, for ratifying and approving my course,

I am, very respectfully,

FRANK B. AINSWORTH,

Superintendent.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge :

It is with pleasure that I submit the following as my first annual report, for the year ending December 31st, 1869. About the middle of last July the position of Assistant Superintendent was tendered me, and I accepted the same, and entered upon the discharge of the duties pertaining to the new office on the 1st day of August—to labor for the bad and homeless, to aid in reforming and educating them, and fitting them for good and law-abiding citizens. I have not had the direct or immediate charge of any one of the Families, yet I have endeavored to exercise a watchful care over all of them. I have not gone to the field with any particular class to work, but it has been my province to visit all classes while at work. These visits have always been attended with satisfactory results. The boys have been led to feel that they were put at work that they might improve their physical natures, rather than put out in the “back lot” to keep them out of sight, not caring whether the labor performed was done in a workmanlike manner so long as the time was killed. When going there the boys have generally taken great pains to show me the work they had done, and would seem very much pleased at any word of commendation that I might offer. Their minds are early imbued with good principles, and they very soon learn that it is honorable to work, and they do not long look upon the man who visits them at their work as one who would willingly add to their tasks, but as one who would rather help them perform the work assigned them. The officers are men of moral worth—men that are not strangers to manual labor. The boys have industrious examples set before them, and it is pleasing to note how soon the new boys will set themselves about reforming their lives in this direction. Bad boys, as a general thing, are boys almost unknown to labor—they have a sufficient quantity of muscular strength to do almost any kind of work. Their muscles are uneducated, and their physical natures are undeveloped. They are apt, and soon pick up the desired information. The “forces” for labor have necessarily been small in stature, and but a few boys in each force or class. This is occasioned from the fact that small boys can not be employed to advantage in the kitchen, dining halls, shoe shop, tailor shop, bake house, milk room, laundry, and on all “trusty jobs.” There are nearly fifty boys on jobs, and they render no service on the farm or in the garden. Were these boys taken off their jobs it would necessitate quite a change in matters generally, for females would have to be more extensively employed in the domestic departments of the Institution, and men would have to take the places of these boys in the shops and with the teams, &c.

THE WORK.

Work can easily be found for all of the boys during the spring, summer and early autumn. The small boys are very nicely adapted to weeding and working in the garden, picking peas and beans, and shelling and stringing the same. The larger boys can be profitably employed all of the time on the farm, and about the barns, but to find suitable work on the farm for the little ones during the fall and winter would well nigh puzzle a sage. About the 1st of October quite a number of the small boys were without regular work. To keep them in the school-room from early morning till late eve would have a natural tendency to create a distaste for books that might prove to be the rock upon which their frail and tender barks would be dashed asunder, and driven down towards the pool of ignorance, vice and crime. Arrangements were made with Messrs. Jackson, Rider & Co., of Indianapolis, to employ a portion of these boys at seating or caning chair bottoms, a business well suited to their capacity, but only a few could be employed, owing to the want of shop room; but one could be found suitable for a chair shop. About thirty little fellows are thus engaged, fifteen in the forenoon, and seventeen in the afternoon. While the boys are at work in the forenoon the other boys are in school, and vice versa in the afternoon. As yet the chair shop has been more of an experiment than a source of revenue.

The boys at work in this shop are learning a good trade, enabling them to contribute their mite to their own support, without detriment to health or morals, but, on the contrary, it has been an improvement, both physically and mentally, and the little fellows, hitherto of idle propensities, are being trained to habits of useful industry. To find a man qualified to take charge of the chair shop, and, at the same time, act as Elder Brother in one of the Families, was likely to prove a difficult task, but such an one was found in Robert W. Cramer, a former inmate of this School. He is a young man of much promise, and is peculiarly fitted to win the erring from the broad road to ruin.

THE SHOE SHOP

Was a place of considerable anxiety, and to secure a man possessing the necessary qualifications, for guiding the wayward and directing the work, was quite a task. The position of foreman in the shoe shop becoming vacant, one of the boys who had deported himself very well for several months, and understood the work quite well, was duly installed as foreman in the shoe shop, where he attended strictly to the shop for something like four months, when it was found necessary to have a change, as John L—— was becoming too important. Isaac Rodgers was then placed in charge of the shoe shop, and all things have been carried on in quite a satisfactory manner. Rodgers came to this school from the Northern prison, and has passed through all his “badges,” and “grades,” and now holds his “honor,” and is entitled to an honorable discharge; but he prefers to remain a ward of the Home to which he came when in need of true friends, till he gets a little more “back-bone.” The boys are well supplied with good shoes; each boy is furnished with two pairs. This week he will wear number one, and next week he will wear pair number two, while number one is left in the shop to be repaired and greased. Thus he will alternate with his shoes as with his other articles of clothing.

BOYS IN THE SCHOOL ROOM.

The school, at present, is separated into four divisions or classes, and arranged and conducted materially on the same plan as the graded or public schools of the neighboring cities. Two grades are in the school-room in the forenoon, one taught by Mrs. Sarah M. Ainsworth, the other by Brother Thomas, while the other classes are at work on the farm, in the garden, in the shops, or "on jobs." In the afternoon, the boys who were at work during the morning are in the school-room (one class is taught by Brother Blair, the other by Mrs. Ainsworth), and vice versa.

The teachers deserve much praise for the interest manifested in behalf of the "tender waifs" entrusted to the guardianship of the Indiana Reform School. The boys present a very different appearance now than when admitted to the School.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL

Is a very interesting one, the boys taking great pains to carefully commit and recite the lessons assigned them. As many as 2,500 verses have been recited at one recitation. The expositions of the lessons are good and beneficial. They are well received by officers, teachers and boys.

CONCLUSION.

While a Reform School must ever be wanting in the attractions that constitutes a home in the highest sense—the presence of father and mother, and the joys and interests that cluster around it, yet, to make it nearly akin to that hallowed spot is the aim of those whose guardians we are, and may we ever be found performing these interesting and responsible duties in the spirit of Him to whom "little children" are especial objects of his all-embracing love and care. There are many trials and perplexities incident to the charge of a household like a Reform School, composed of boys unaccustomed to discipline and cultivated habits. But with the superior facilities of our system, its affairs move on harmoniously, having a cheerful aspect rather than the gloomy air that is supposed by many to pervade similar institutions.

At present the Reform School numbers one hundred and eighteen boys, all seeming to form a happy and contented household. A combination of many integral parts, it forms one complete whole; the head and moving power the Superintendent and those who labor with him, the active and co-operative agency, the Trustees, the field the boys, and last (or perhaps first), but not least, the guardian protectorate, the Great Physician that can heal the sick.

During the coming year many of these boys will go forth to tread the highway of life, and to battle with the realities of a cold and unfeeling world, often perchance with weary feet and saddened hearts. May the habits and impressions they will bear with them be as safe-guards against the trials and temptations that await them. In recounting our manifold blessings, we would render thanks to the Father of all; and with confidence in His continued care, and with the aid of the good people of the State, and counsels of yourself and the Board of Control, we shall labor to perpetuate, through the vicissitudes of sorrow and crime, this memorial of peace and Christian love. So long as there are tears to dry and sorrows to soothe, the wayward and orphaned youth may find, in the Indiana Reform School, a home, in its truest and largest sense.

Respectfully, &c.,

C. W. AINSWORTH,

Ass't Sup't Ind. House of Refuge.

PLAINFIELD, Indiana.

HOUSE FATHER'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge :

Allow me to present to you the following report of Family No. 1, for the year ending December 31, 1869 : .

Until the 23d of this month, the family numbered more than fifty boys ; at that time twenty-three were taken out and organized with others into a new family. During the year ten have been discharged and the family now numbers thirty-four. Though the number is small, a variety of temperaments, dispositions and differences of intellectual developments are to be found among them. Some there are who take hold vigorously everything that is thrown around them, that tends to elevate them to a higher and nobler life, joyfully anticipating the time when their ambition to be men, honest and upright, shall be realized. There are those, too, who have hitherto known nothing but the evils that are practiced by the vicious beings with whom it has been their misfortune to have been surrounded : in these, the element of self-respect is dormant, and, to arouse it, human skill, without God's blessing upon it, would be all in vain. There are others still, who are indifferent as to what road they take or where they land ; with these two latter classes nothing but regular instituted and slowly operating processes will make of them thoroughly reformed boys.

It is very gratifying to note with what rapid progress they pursue their studies and their eagerness to become men of good understanding. It has been my aim to urge these boys up the hill of science, by impressing their minds of the value of education, and that it is their duty, as beings accountable to God, to acquire it, in opposition to the idea taught by many that fame, honor and power lieth near by, and effort is all that is needed in order to reach them.

I have paid due attention to exercises in composition, declamation, etc. They have been attended with much success and in them the boys take great delight. I believe such exercises to be good, in order that the imparting faculties may be equally developed with the receiving. My grade in school is made up of boys that read in the fourth and fifth readers and pursue usual accompanying studies. The zeal they exhibit is very commendable, and their progress is equal to that made by any of our common schools, though they work half the day, and it will be only a matter of time to convince the people, if they do not already believe it, that these down-trodden intellects are yet to become bright and shining lights in the world. Most of those in my working class learn rapidly and seem to have a strong desire to possess some means by which they can support themselves on leaving the Institution; and the inquiries they make in regard to scientific principles relative to farming, show that they are not satisfied with the mere knowing how to use a tool. They take interest in reading agricultural and horticultural magazines, furnished them.

The boys rise three-fourths of an hour before breakfast, and after the lapse of a half an hour they are to be found sitting in the school-room, prepared for breakfast and ready to listen to the reading of the Bible, after which all unite in prayer to God; the time after breakfast till 11:30 and from 1:00 until supper, is occupied in school or with work alternately. The evenings of the week are occupied by conforming with a programme that allots regular time for reading, studying the scriptures, preparing and reciting compositions, declamations, etc. and for a moral review. By this system, habits of regularity are taught—an important lesson, too—one which lies at the bottom of success in every department of life. At the time for moral review, that which is evil is discouraged, and the boys are encouraged to grasp that which is good; also, is recorded the conduct of each boy, whether it be good or bad. My Sabbath-school class is a very interesting one, and certainly the angels of God are made to rejoice, knowing that among these boys are some real students of the bible.

A weekly prayer meeting is regularly attended by a number of the boys, and evidence is here shown, manifestly shown, that many have heartily and practically accepted the religion of Jesus Christ as the only safeguard in the great highway of justice, temperance and virtue, as the only source of earthly happiness, as the only pre-servatory in passing over the river of life, as the only ensign that can be worn into the tented hosts of God's redeemed.

I believe that the Institution is doing a good and a noble work, and that it is a potent means of putting an end to the many crimes and horrid deeds that are being committed throughout the land; and if the young are only prevented from becoming criminals, when the old ones pass away we need have criminals no longer. Thinking thus, may it be attended with God's richest blessing, is the earnest prayer of your obedient servant.

Most respectfully submitted.

WILL. P. BLAIR,
House Father No. 1 Family.

HOUSE FATHER'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge:

As requested, I submit the following report of Family No. 2 for the year ending December 31st, 1869:

At the beginning of the year the Family numbered 54; number received, 13; honorably discharged, 11. On the 23d of the present month 17 were transferred to the newly organized family consisting of boys on trusty jobs. This contributed much toward good order, as these boys were constantly passing back and forth from the Family to their place of labor.

Family worship is held, morning and evening. The forenoon is spent in the school-room. The progress of the boys in their studies is all that could be expected, indeed, the readiness, and even eagerness, with which some of them apply themselves to their studies is most gratifying; and while, in some instances, the result of our labor is not all that we could desire, yet I may safely state the interest manifested by their efforts to obtain knowledge is greater than in schools generally. The afternoon is devoted to work of various kinds about the farm. In this the boys engage heartily and cheefully. The circumstances and influences by which boys are here surrounded separates them from the means of indulging perverted appetites and desires, and their minds being directed to something better, they are weaned from their former course of life. Instead of seeking only sensual pleasure and gratification, they are actuated by higher motives, and seek a nobler end, as they "discover a brighter order of things."

Our evenings are occupied in moral review of the events of the day; in reading that which is entertaining and instructive; in singing, or reading books from the library, to which the family have access.

The daily papers from various parts of the State are gladly received, they being so distributed that each may receive the paper sent from the locality from which he came. They are perused with great interest. We can not well express our thanks to those who gratuitously furnish them, for "as cold water to the thirsty soul," so to the boys is news from their homes.

The class of boys received are either those having strong propensities with weak moral faculties, or having fair moral power naturally. By reason of disuse this power of judging between good and evil lies dormant. It has been our aim in the daily review of each boy's conduct to bring into exercise their moral sense, and beget in them a love of truth and virtue.

I would not omit acknowledging the hearty co-operation of the boys in preserving order and discouraging all wrong doing. This sympathy of the boys with their teachers is, I think, owing to the mild treatment they receive. Having had our previous experience in schools where corporal punishments were resorted to, it seemed to us at first very doubtful whether the respect and prompt obedience of the more hardened and refractory could be secured by such mild discipline, but it is a matter of rejoicing that in our experience it has been attended with most happy results.

Our Sabbath School exercises are full of interest. This is owing in a great measure to the deep interest taken by the lady teachers. Their admirable selections of passages of Scripture suitable for the younger members of the Family, to be committed by them for the succeeding lesson, show they do not appear before their class without previous preparation. May God's blessing attend the instruction imparted from His word, that it may accomplish that which is well pleasing to Him, "and prosper in the thing whereunto He sent it."

As we have pressed the hand at parting with some and contrasted their modest yet manly bearing with the hardened, careless expression of others just received, the proverb was brought to mind, "When wisdom entereth into a man the boldness of his face is changed." It is noticeable that the majority of boys committed to the care of these schools possess unusual energy of character, which will make them a dower in the world for good or evil. It humbles us as we realize how great the responsibility of those upon whose faithfulness in the discharge of their duties may depend the important issue. May God help us all faithfully to perform our duty that we may be instruments in leading "them forth by the right way," and in the end may He bring both us and them "to the desired haven."

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED A. THOMAS,
House Father No. 2 Family.

HOUSE FATHER'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge :

SIR—It becomes a duty incumbent on me to present to you the First Annual Report of the Honor Family, and in doing so would respectfully ask your favorable consideration of the circumstances surrounding us. As a family we are united and bound together by ties inseparable, yet we labor under some disadvantages, arising principally from two causes—that of our recent organization, and that of moving into a new building in winter. However, after our bathroom is dry enough for use, and our library in circulation, only a few necessities of minor importance will be requisite to place us on a solid basis; we shall then, I think, be able to show a bold front on the road leading to honor, health and happiness; we shall then try to find a place for everything, and find everything in its place.

This family was organized December 23, 1869. We commenced with 39 boys, our present number. At the time we took possession of our new home, the boys hailed with delight their glowing prospects, not from the mere novelty the change afforded them, but each heart seemed pregnant with past progress, and buoyant in the belief that God, who had aided them thus far, would eventually make them good and useful men.

Their ages range between ten and twenty years; their labors are somewhat varied, all having, by their good conduct, given full evidence of their trustworthiness, and have from time to time been detailed to their several vocations, in order, if possible, to place them in a position whereby to test them. Many of them are occupying very important places, and in no instance since my connection with your institution has any of them betrayed the confidence reposed in them. This is indeed wonderful, when we reflect upon the circumstances under which they came to us, many of them coming from our State-prisons, coming fully persuaded in their own minds that they were beyond the power of reformation; yet they, too, chime in, and I am happy to say, are working with zealous care to do for themselves what we so long have tried to do for them.

In their labors they are cheerful, and exhibit a willingness to pattern after us in whatever department they may be placed; this is very gratifying, labor being so essential to happiness; it invigorates our whole system, deters action of the animal faculties, and gives strength to our moral and religious capacity, makes happy hearts, cheerful homes.

We have, by your request, instituted in our family a weekly prayer meeting, and one evening in each week we devote to Him who, with such kind care, watches over us. In this meeting the boys take a lively interest; indeed this alone repays us for all our toils and deprivations, as we look upon them kneeling at the foot of the cross, and in tender simplicity imploring His aid and the guidance of their Father in heaven. We also have devotional exercises morning and evening. Our Sabbath school, too, is very important as an auxiliary to reformation, the boys in my family alone reciting over one thousand verses at one recitation.

I believe you have wisely considered the future welfare of your Institution in the organization of this family, as in its workings we find a medium through which a boy may more properly be fitted for the world; it is a step in the right direction, one long needed in reformatories, but has been neglected amid the whirl of conflicting systems.

A boy on entering the world should be fully equipped in all the paraphernalia of the soldier; he must fight the fight, and much depends on his training and accoutrements, as to whether he shall come off victor or victim.

Let us then be confident in the assurance of an all-wise Providence, placing shoulder to shoulder, and with a firm step press on cleaving asunder the tottering ruins of sin, the snares and vicissitudes of the world, to that promised reward of the faithful.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. KILVINGTON,

House Father Honor Family.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge :

SIR — As practicing physician to the Indiana House of Refuge, I have the honor to make the following report, beginning January 1, 1869, and ending December 31, 1869:

The cases which I have been called to treat consisted of roseola, dysentery, acute rheumatism, bronchitis, billious fever, typhoid fever, pneumonia, and typhoid pneumonia, with a few surgical diseases of minor importance. A detailed report of the symptoms, progress and treatment of these various cases attended in the Institution would be both voluminous and uninteresting. Suffice it to say, that while a number of the cases were of a grave type, and demanded close attention, yet under such treatment as our judgment dictated, aided by good nursing, hygienic and dietetic attentions, the cases have all recovered, and there has been no fatality in the Institution during this year. The general health this year was superior to that of last, which is attributable in great part to the fact that the boys are better cared for there than they were at home, and are accustomed to their surroundings. The clean persons of the boys, their warm clothing, neatly cut and well appearing, healthy diet and punctual meals, regular exercise and moderate labor, cheerfulness of disposition and contented minds, clean covering and warm beds, large and well-ventilated sleeping apartments and abundance of good spring water, with the untiring care of the Superintendent and officers, are conducive to a state of health superior to that enjoyed by the same number of boys residing in this locality.

Believing the Institution will have a deserving prosperity, I remain,

Very respectfully,

J. T. STRONG, M. D.

BOYS' LETTERS.

The following letter is from the mother of one of the boys returned to his friends as reformed :

“ CHARLESTOWN, IND., Aug. 17, 1869.

“ F. B. AINSWORTH, ESQ.,

“ Superintendent Reform School, Plainfield, Ind.:

“ DEAR SIR—Please accept the thanks of the parents of William S. for your efforts in rescuing our dear boy from a life of sin and crime, and guiding him back to the path of virtue from which he had wandered. God grant that we may all be truly thankful to Him for the merciful institution of a Reform School, where those who have gone or been led astray can be reclaimed and returned to their friends real gentlemen. With kind wishes for yourself and family, and a bright future for the Reform School, I am,

“ Yours truly,

“ PRISCILLA S.”

The following letter was inclosed in the above, written by the boy to which allusion is made in the foregoing letter :

“ Dear Brother Ainsworth :

“ It is with great pleasure that I take this, the first opportunity, to write you a few lines to inform you of my safe arrival at home on the evening after leaving the school. I found many good and kind friends to welcome me to my old home. They did not seem to think I had been very much disgraced by my stay at the Reform School, but on the contrary they thought me much improved. We are all in good health, and I hope that all with you are thus highly favored. I expect to go to work next week driving team on the railroad; will get about twenty dollars per month. I wish you would send me a paper containing the notice of Aura's death. Please remember me very kindly to all at the 'School Farm,' and confer another favor upon one that thinks much of you and the Reform School that saved me from a prison life.

"Yours truly,

"WILLIAM S."

"HUDSON CITY, N. J., Dec. 30, 1869.

"Dear Friend, Mrs. A.:

"You will please excuse me for not writing before this time, for indeed I have not had any settled place to work until very recently. I have now got a very good place. Hereafter you shall hear from me often. Mrs. A., I often wish I was back to the school, for this is the dullest place I ever was in, except Michigan. How often do I think of the good and kind friends at the farm, and how much they are daily doing for the boys. While with you I did not look at the matter in its true light, but I am very sorry for the trouble I made all at the Reform School. Had I improved the time and advantages of the school while there I would now be better prepared for the outer world, where there is so much wickedness and crime; but I hope to come out all right yet. Please write soon and let me have all the news at the farm. Tell me what has happened since I left you, for I would like to hear how the boys are getting along. I have joined a Sunday-school in this city. I attend regularly every Sabbath. We have a very nice school, and I enjoy it very much. Give my best wishes to Brother Ainsworth, and keep a large share for yourself. Write soon and often.

"Yours truly, &c.,

"JAMES D.

"P. S.— I will write a few words to Brother F. B. Ainsworth: If you hear from Brother Johnnie please let me know, for I am anxious to hear from him, as I have not had a word from him since I left the farm. I am very much obliged to you for sending me the directions that enabled me to find my sister in New York. I go over there quite often. To visit with her and write to the friends at the Reform School is about all the pleasure I have. My love to all of the boys and officers.

"Faithfully yours,

"JAMES D."

The above is from a boy that came to us from the Northern Prison, and seemed almost beyond the reach of reformation. He ran away three times, and was promptly returned each time. Good deeds and kind words for a time had no effect upon the heart, mind or life of James D., but finally he came into the light, and saw things differently. He was considered quite a hero among the boys, and they looked up to him as a kind of leading spirit; and when he began to reform his influence was equally as powerful, but in another direction. He gained all of his promotions, and was honorably discharged, and is now working at tailoring, a trade he partially learned while with us. He bids fair to become a good and useful man.

The writer of the following letter was transferred from the Southern Prison to the Refuge. He was a hard boy. The Warden was conveying him and three others from the prison to the Refuge, and they succeeded in making their escape while in the Union Depot at Indianapolis. He was subsequently retaken and placed under the guardianship of this Institution. His letter will speak for itself:

“Dear Brother Ainsworth:

“After so long a time, I once more endeavor to drop you a few lines, to inform you that I am well and doing well. I have been out in Illinois and got back a few days ago. I hope this letter will find you and all at the Reform School in good health. I thank you and all the rest of the officers for your kindness towards me while there, and also for keeping me there when I wanted to get away. It taught me to behave myself, and to try and make a man out of the bad boy that I was when you first knew me. When I went to the Refuge I was a very bad boy, and it was some time before I thought of being a good one. With all the kind friends around me, I could not help doing something towards reforming my life; so I began the long-needed work, and with the help of friends and the blessings of God, I am a reformed boy. I hope you will not think hard of me for not writing before this late date, but I do not get through work till after dark, and by that time I am so tired that I do not feel like writing to any one. Please answer soon, and I will try to be more prompt in the future.

“Kind regards to all. Yours ever.

F. B. Ainsworth, Esq. :

"DEAR FRIEND—I received your letter, bearing date of August 28, and was very glad to hear from you. I should like very much to make you a visit, but at present I cannot. I feel very lonesome now and then, but time will do much towards causing that feeling to wear away. I saw John B. a few days ago; he was on his way to Detroit. Wish you and Mrs. A. would send me your photographs. Give my best wishes to your good wife, to Brother C. W. A. and wife, and accept a portion for yourself. Write again as soon as convenient.

"Respectfully, &c.,

"JOHNNIE D."

John D. is a brother of James, now in Hudson City, N. J. They came to the Institution together, and passed through the changes incident to a bad boy's getting his "grades and badges," but Johnnie was discharged first. He is a smart, intelligent boy, and we hope he will make good use of the instruction received while in the School.

"CHARLESTON, ILL., Aug. 24, 1869.

"DEAR SIR—I arrived home the same day I left the school, and found my folks in good health; but they had been weeping, for they thought I would not very soon be with them again. Brother Ainsworth, the reason why I did not write you before now is, I have been very busy all the time. I have not been in town but once since I came home. I am working with a threshing machine. My time is limited, and I must be brief for this time. I will write more in a short time. Give my love to all of the boys, and tell them to be good boys, and make men of themselves. Would be pleased to hear from you at any time.

"I am, very respectfully,

"JOHN DUVALL."

The writer of the above letter was one of the three whose escape we reported last year. We found him in Illinois. He had wisely considered his condition, and had married a wife with a farm of 80 acres of good prairie land, and stock sufficient to carry it on very nicely. We brought him back to the School and kept him for a few days, and we gave the boys an opportunity to vote him free or to decide that he remain an inmate of the Reform School. The vote was unanimous for his discharge. He was doing well when we found him, and is still attending to his farm, and leading a quiet and respectable life.

"Dear Friend, Brother A.:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I embrace the present opportunity of writing you a few lines, to let you know how I am getting along. I arrived home in safety, and found my folks well and very glad to see me. I am now clerking in my father's store. He thinks the Reform School is a noble institution, and that it did a good work for me. He needs me very much, so I intend to stay at home and help him all I can, and do what is right. The people are very anxious to know what kind of a place the Reform School is, and how bad boys are trained there. I hope to be able to satisfy their curiosity in all particulars. With regards to all. Please write soon.

"Brother Ainsworth—Dear Friend:

"Yours of the 18th has been received and read with pleasure. I was very glad to hear from you, also to hear that you are all well, as this leaves me the same. I have been working for a man that I used to work for; he gives me $2 per day. I will finish the job to-morrow. There is a man here by the name of Burns that wants me to work for him (making chairs). I would, only I don't want to remain here very long, and I don't want to take a job and then go away and leave him out of a hand. I feel encouraged all the time, and shall as long as I feel as I do now. I have not the least inclination to loaf around town as I used to do. When I see any of my former associates I try to avoid them and shun their company. I would like to see all the boys again, and all the officers, and the ladies. I received a letter this evening from brother Wheeler. He was well when he wrote; that was the 25th of July. I have no more of importance this time, so I will close, hoping to hear from you soon. I remain your friend,

“Brother Ainsworth—Dear Sir :

“Your kind letter was received some time ago, but I have not had an opportunity to answer it until now. I was glad to hear from you, and to hear that you are well. I came here last Friday a week ago, to work in a boiler shop, but the work is so hard that I cannot stand it to work there. I have been at every place in town, and cannot get any other place to work. If you please, I wish you would see if you can get me a good place in Indianapolis, or any other town that you can get anything for me to do. If you can get me a place with some man in Indianapolis to write, I would like it first rate—or any place, it is immaterial to me what, as long as I am not out of employment. I have no more to write this time. Hoping to hear from you soon,

“I am yours with respect,

“ROBERT W. C.

“P. S.—Have you any vacancy in the Institution that you think I would be competent to fill?
R. W. C.”

The two letters above were written by a young man that came to us from Logansport in this State. He soon accepted the situation, and made rapid strides towards reformation. He was detailed to act as clerk in the Superintendent's office. He is a good penman and very much of a gentleman. He was honorably discharged, and tried life out in the busy world for a short time, when he signified his desire to return to the School. He now has charge of the chair-shop, and is doing first rate.

" Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth—Dear Sir :

" It is with pleasure that I improve the present opportunity of consulting you as to how I ought to do. I wish in this consultation to have you speak plainly, and tell me how to proceed. My father is going to England soon, and wants me to accompany him. I do not wish to go without first asking your advice about the matter. If you think I had better go, please write me at once ; and if you do not think it advisable for me to go on the contemplated journey, write and let me know. I don't like to go away from all of my friends, but my dear mother lives in London and I want to see her. I hope you are in the full enjoyment of good health, &c. I was very much pained to hear of the illness of little Aura, she is such a sweet child. I can hardly keep from crying when I think of her and the nice times I used to have playing with her.

" Remember me kindly to all, and write soon.

" Your friend, &c.,

" EDWARD F."

Edward, when admitted to the Refuge, seemed a hopeless case to act upon. He had served four terms in prisons, and finally admitted that he came to the Refuge fully determined to remain but a short time. But he soon began to think better of it, and was soon on the road to education and reformation. He was a sub-officer in the school for some time, and discharged the duties as such in a very satisfactory manner. He has a brother in the Institution. He went to England, where he is now studying medicine.

"Your favor of the 6th instant came to hand yesterday, and found me well, as I hope this letter will find you and all at the Reform School. I like to think of the time I spent there. Had it not been for the Reform School no knowing where I would be at this time. My father says that he is going to send me to school all winter, and in the spring I intend to go to work at the machinist trade, if you think it will be best for me to do so. Please send me a copy of your annual report when it is printed, and confor another favor upon your friend. Would like a photograph of yourself and also of Mrs. A. Hope to be able to spend next Christmas with you. I am sure you will have a good time on the School farm. There are quite a number of bad boys in this place that might be greatly benefitted by stopping awhile with you. For their good, and the good of the place, I wish they would be sent there. Please write me a letter soon, and tell me all about things.

SIR—By a letter from my son, Edward F., I find that he has engaged himself to Dr. S., of Mooresville, to study medicine. I hope he will do well, and become a good man. You still have under your charge my younger son, Freddie. Whenever you think him ready to be discharged I will be pleased to send money to pay his fare to this city, and will send him to school here, and he will be a great comfort to me. Allow me to return you my sincere thanks for your kindness to my two erring sons. They have often spoken of your kindness to them in their letters to me.

"Dear Mr. Ainsworth:

I now take the pleasure of writing you a few lines to let you know that I am well and hope this will find you the same. I am getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances. I wish I had been a better boy at the Reform School, and not ran away. I wish I could get back there. I would be a good boy. I am trying to do right. Am working in the shop where plow handles are turned, I wish you would send me my sister's hair, if you have it yet. I wish you would tell the boys and officers to write to me. We have a good Warden. He does everything for a poor convict that is in his power. We have Sunday School and preaching here. To-day we had a good temperance lecture by Rev. Mr. Martindale. I joined the Society. Will have to bring my letter to a close for it is near church time. Give my best respects to all of the boys, and tell them I want them to be good boys. Tell them never to run away from the School or they may come to what I have. Address in care of Colonel L. S. Shuler.

"Yours respectfully,

"CHARLES C."

The writer of the above letter escaped from the School about the first of last August, and got but a few miles from the Institution when he committed a flagrant offence against the laws of God and man. He was taken an hour later, by one of the officers of the School, and returned to the Institution the same evening. He was afterwards given up to the civil courts, and was put on trial for his offence, and was sent to the Southern Prison for eighteen years. He was raised in sin and wickedness. The jails of the State were his regular home. He did not care to reform while in the School. Let us hope that it is not yet too late for poor Charles to become a reformed boy.

I find that there has been quite a number of buildings put up since I left the city. Several churches have been erected of late—one within half a square of my father’s house. I have attended it several times, and think I will go regular. Enclosed please find the money you so kindly loaned me to get home with. Please remember me kindly to all. Write soon, and keep me posted about all matters of interest at the School farm.

“I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and trying to do well, so far as I know and am capable of doing. When at the Reform School I often thought that if I was in the city I would get along first rate. Since coming home I find it quite different. I do not know but I shall go to the country to work in the spring. I want to see how I will make it at the chair trade this winter. I have visited quite a number of Sabbath-schools since coming home, and I must say that I have not yet visited a Sabbath-school that is so well conducted as yours. Please send me the report when it is printed. Inclosed you will find my ‘ticket of leave,' which will be out to-morrow. Send me another, and much oblige. Hope to make you a visit soon. Suppose you will have a nice time on Christmas. Kind regards to all.

"Yours always,

"WILLIAM W."

William W. came to the Refuge under an assumed name, and was considered a hard and slippery boy for some time. He is a young man of pleasing address, and will make warm friends wherever he goes. He was honorably discharged from the Institution about two months ago, and is now working for a responsible firm in Indianapolis. He, like the other boys that go out from this Home, feel interested in all matters pertaining to it.

"SIR—In answer to your note of a recent date I can say that Aaron is at home. He went to school until July, and then he helped in the harvest field till we were through, and since then he has been doing general farm work. He attends Sunday-school and church regularly, and seems very well satisfied. School commences again next week. I want him to go steadily all fall and winter. He takes a great interest in all his studies, and he learns quite rapidly. I return to you my sincere thanks for your kindness to my dear boy, and also to Sister Ainsworth my love and best Wishes.

"Yours truly,

"CYRENA B."

The above is from the mother of another of our boys who has been honorably discharged and is now doing well. We have no doubt but Aaron will conduct himself in such a manner as to merit the esteem and approbation of those who look upon good boys in an encouraging way.

APPENDIX.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 1, 1868.

In pursuance of the requirements of Section 10 of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, approved March 8, 1867, entitled "An Act to establish a House of Refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders," I, CONRAD BAKER, Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Indiana, acting as Governor thereof, do hereby announce and proclaim that the institution contemplated by said act, having been heretofore located near Plainfield, in Hendricks county, is now so nearly completed as to properly admit of the reception of youths who may be committed to its guardianship under the provisions of said act.

According to the plan adopted by the Board of Commissioners, to whose management the Institution is intrusted, it will much more largely partake of the nature of an Industrial Reform School than of a juvenile prison; and this being the case, the success of the enterprise will depend greatly upon its starting under favorable auspices and conditions.

After the Institution is fairly in operation, and families of infants are formed and under good discipline, it will be much easier to work in boys of an older and worse class, than it would be to form and reduce to proper discipline families and classes composed entirely or principally of such material in the outset.

The experience of similar institutions in other States has proved that boys over the age of sixteen years cannot be received with profit to themselves or the Institution. Yet the act under which our House of Refuge is organized, prescribes eighteen years as the maximum age at which infants may be received.

The evil to be feared from the sending of boys of such advanced age will probably be aggravated by the fact that the friends of those accused of crime will be tempted to represent the accused as being younger than they really are, to save them from the county jail or penitentiary by having them sent to this Institution.

It is hoped that all good citizens who desire to see this Institution successfully perform its mission, will use all proper means to discourage and prevent the committal of boys of an improper age to its guardianship; and to this end the co-operation of those intrusted with the administration of the law is especially solicited.

It will be observed that by the 11th section of the act, infants under the age of 18 years may be sentenced, upon regular trial, to the House of Refuge, instead of being sentenced to the penitentiary or county jail. It is hoped that no infant will be sentenced to the House of Refuge under this section, for the following reasons, viz :

1. It will leave a record of conviction of crime to confront him, in after years, and to discourage him in his efforts to deserve and obtain the confidence of his fellow-men; and there is certainly no necessity for such a conviction, as he may be as effectually committed to the guardianship of the Institution under the provisions of the 10th, 12th, 13th and 14th sections of the act without any such record being made against him.

2. By the provisions of the 16th section of the act, no infant can be conveyed to the Institution until it is ascertained from the Superintendent whether he can be received or not; and if he cannot be received into the Institution, the case of such infant is to be disposed of as if the act had never been passed, and as if no proceedings had been taken under it.

Now if an infant should be regularly tried and sentenced to the House of Refuge, and it should be afterwards ascertained that he could not be received in the Institution, he could not be tried again for the same offence, and his discharge would be a necessity.

Under the provisions of the 20th section, of the act, the expense of keeping and taking care of such infant (including subsistence and clothing), has been estimated at one hundred and thirty dollars per annum.

The act provides that one-half of the expense of keeping each infant shall be paid by the State, and the other half by the county from which he is sent—except where the infant is sent at the instance of his parent or guardian, in which case the parent or the infant, if able, must pay the expenses; and in the last named case the charge will be one hundred and fifty dollars.

Where the infant is sent at the public expense, the charge to the county from which he may come cannot exceed half the amount of the aforesaid estimate, or sixty-five dollars per annum.

The necessary forms to be observed in making applications for admission into this Institution, will be sent without delay to the Auditor of each county in the State.

In witness whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name, and caused the Seal of the State to be affixed, in the city of Indianapolis, the day first above given.

CONRAD BAKER.

By the Governor.
